SAY HUERTA CANNOT NAME HIS SUCCESSOR

U. S. Delegates Opposed to Plan of Mediators and Mexican Delegates—Would Mean Recognition—Differences Over Method of Establishing New Government

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 10.—De-termined effort was made today by the principals to the mediation conference to reconsider the differences of opinion that have arisen over the exact method by which the executive power in Mexico City shall be transferred from the hands of Gen. Victoriano Huerta to the individual to be agreed upon here for the provisional presidency of Mexico.

A serious disagreement has developed between the mediators and the American delegates on this point, but there was believed today to be a prospect of reaching common ground. The mediators and the Mexican delegates have proposed that the new provisional president should come into office as provided in the Mexican constitution, being first appointed minister of foreign affairs by Gen. Huerta and succeeding the latter when he resigns. This method, the American delegates have argued, would be tantamount to recognition of Huerta as exercising constitutional powers, a position consistently denied not only by the American government but the constitutionalist cause. The mediators were of the opinion that the United States in this instance should waive technicalities and consider that the end justified the means.

Difficult Situation
The American delegates are in a difficult situation in arguing this point, for while they do not wish to agree to anything involving even a tacit recognition of General Huerta as the constitutional ruler of Mexico, they are in the dark as to what the constitutionalists will or will not accept. The plan which has been virtually agreed upon not only by the mediators and the American delegates, but by the Huerta delegates as well, contemplates giving to the constitutionalists what amounts to a majority share in the new provisional government. In effect it recognizes the military achievement of the revolution by giving the constitutionalist party a controlling voice in the government, which would mean possession of the electoral machinery.

They will have it in their power to ensure the holding of a fair election and if the constitutionalists cause is the popular one they would experience no difficulty in electing General Carranza or anyone else to the presidency for a regular term.

Constitutionalist President

The details of the composition of the new government are being worked out in the daily conferences. The aim now is to obtain for provisional president a man of constitutionalist attitudes, capable and broad enough to give fair consideration to the legitimate interests of the Huerta party. Of the four cabinet portfolios it has been practically agreed that the ministry of foreign relations shall go to a man of the Huerta party but not objectionable personally to the constitutionalists; the minister of finance to an independent man having the trust and confidence of the constitutionalists but to be suggested by the Huerta party; and the minister of government (interior administration) shall be of constitutionalist leanings but one likely to be fair in his adjustment of the various provisional government and state political situations. This would give the constitutionalists practically three out of five men in sympathy with their cause. In trying to find a discredited way for the retirement of Huerta the mediators are impressed with the method suggested by the Mexican delegates of permitting him actually to appoint a minister of foreign affairs as a new provisional president. Also the mediators have in mind the fact that the European powers have recognized Huerta as the constitutional president and they wish to see his dignity retained before they resign. The Mexican delegation, it is understood, will not insist upon this method of selection if the American delegates find it impossible to sanction it. One way of bridging the difficulty which has been suggested is to have the transition effected without any previous agreement with the American government so as to save it embarrassment. Recognition then might be extended when the new provisional president had been installed in power and had been formally accepted by the constitutionalists. Such ceremony would constitute a popular demonstration that would justify the American government in the view of many here in extending recognition on the broad ground that the national will in effect had been expressed.

SEVEN PERISHED IN NEW YORK TENEMENT FIRE

Four Women and Three Men Burned to Death, and Eight Badly Injured in Fire That Destroyed Old Style East Side Tenement in New York This Morning

NEW YORK, June 10.—Seven persons, four of them women, were burned to death and eight more were badly injured in a fire that spread through an old style East Side tenement early today. More than a score others were less seriously hurt. The fire was discovered under the stairs shortly before four o'clock by a tenant who raised the alarm. The fire whirled through the tenement so rapidly that every escape was cut off before most of the tenants had been aroused.

Civil Marriage of Kermit Roosevelt and Miss Belle Wyatt Willard

MISS BELLE WYATT WILLARD - KERMIT ROOSEVELT

MADRID, June 10.—The civil marriage of Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain, and Kermit Roosevelt, son of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, was performed today.

The ceremony was performed at the office and residence of the chief of police by the magistrate of the Buena Vista district.

Police headquarters are located in a populous section of the city and the passing of the wedding party in five automobiles attracted considerable attention.

Moving picture men were out in strong force and in the vicinity of the building a crowd gathered, which was kept from approaching too close by about a dozen detectives and policemen.

Colonel Roosevelt and Ambassador Willard were among those present at the ceremony and afterward the wedding party left the city to pass the afternoon at Toledo.

The prisoner was later turned over to Sergt. Rutherford of the Brooklyn police. The capture of this man by O'Neil and Dorsey is believed by the police to be one of the most important made in a long time. A large number of breaks have been committed in Greater Boston, and the police think some of them will be traced to Holman.

Sergt. Rutherford took Holman to Brooklyn last evening and had him booked on a charge of breaking and entering.

The home of Mrs. Winn in an apartment block was entered during the afternoon of May 26, entrance being gained by forcing the hall door with a jimmy. At the same time the apartment of William H. Prescott on the top floor was entered in the same manner and jewelry stolen.

For several months the Brooklyn police have been on the alert for an apartment house burglar. Houses in many fashionable sections of the town have been broken into and in nearly every instance entrance was gained by jimmying the front door.

Prior to the break at Mrs. Winn's apartment was made to burglarize an apartment on St. Paul street and on that occasion the intruder suddenly met the maid and fled.

The Brooklyn police said last evening that they would not know until today what breaks would be charged up to Holman.

SUNDAY AUTOUSE

Senate Committee on Rules Gives a Hearing on the Bill

BOSTON, June 10.—A hearing on the bill which provides that "it shall not be unlawful to operate an automobile on the Lord's Day" was held yesterday afternoon before the senate committee on rules, which must decide whether the bill should be admitted at the present session. The committee took no further action yesterday.

According to what is held a strict interpretation of chapter 15 of the revised laws, the observance of the Lord's Day, no automobile may be run on Sunday, even by its owner, unless it be upon an emergency of necessity or charity.

William A. Gray, an attorney of Lowell, and Arthur W. Ellsworth, of the Automobile Local Association, appeared in behalf of the measure, to which dissent was expressed by a number of senators.

The story is that there is an automobile race between Greenfield and Turner Falls and that its operation has created the passage of the Connecticut Valley express railway company. An attorney of the latter advised, it is said, that the "bus" being an automobile, had no right on the road on the Lord's Day. The driver of the bus and another party were held in custody, but their sentences were suspended.

Mrs. J. W. Gray and Ellsworth urged that since the letting of horses and carriages was exempted long ago from the provisions of the Sunday law, the automobile, which has in a large measure supplanted them, should be given the same exemption and for the same reason.

Mr. Lawler, who represented the Connecticut River Valley street railway company, opposed admission of the bill.

The committee gave a hearing to Senator Burbank on his bill for a commission to investigate the industries of Massachusetts. There was no opposition.

BARS BLIND TEACHERS

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION GIVES DECISION ON MISS CURRAN'S CASE

BOSTON, June 10.—That there is no opportunity for the service of blind teachers in the public elementary schools of the state and that Miss Mary J. Curran, the blind girl who petitioned the state board of education for permission to teach in the public schools at Worcester and receive a stipend, is not entitled to receive the same, is the substance of the board's decision, made public yesterday.

Miss Curran, who is totally blind, and the Worcester Normal school without making her the requirements prescribed for teachers, who are required to be "sighted." She was admitted only as a special student, and such she was entitled, on completion of her course, to do satisfactory work in a normal school from the board of education, and she was not entitled to work when she was admitted to a diploma.

The board is of the opinion that by reason of her blindness it will be impossible for her to teach in the public schools, and that, therefore, under the circumstances she is not entitled to a diploma.

No schools for the blind can be a part of the public school system of the state, and blind children are not taught in the public schools.

LYNN TOOK 4-2 GAME

Lowell Defeated in Close Game —The Locals Failed to Embrace Golden Opportunities

Still tingling with resentment at his election from yesterday's game and his subsequent wrangle with the Lowell players and further disgruntled by the rather frigid atmosphere which greeted his arrival Manager Patsy Flaherty hustled his Lynn leaders out to Spalding park yesterday afternoon in no enviable frame of mind as was plainly evidenced by the expression of disgust which beamed his usually serene countenance.

In all probability the director of Lynn baseball activities was thinking of his past experiences in this city. It was Jimmy Gray who got all the blame of starting the Shoemakers on their toboggan slide after they had very nearly set up a new record for consecutive wins in the New England league. "Bringing us to Lowell on another Arctic day," grunted Flaherty as he untangled his cold-stiffened limbs and climbed out of the street car at the ball park.

Howeversome, Patsy and his squad of lasters, sewers and heaters warmed up, in spite of the frigid atmosphere, in a snappy fashion with Arlie Latham spouting forth a stream of alleged comedy. That Latham boy is some sower when it comes to making ball players think things that are not.

"Shorty" Dee, judging from rumors, was the lad who sent home the shot which wounded Flaherty's pride Monday and which started him toward the Lowell bench with fell purpose in his mind. And Shorty wasn't taking chances yesterday and took out of the Lowell dugout and took a slant at the Lynn manager to ascertain the latter's probable tactics before taking a breather and trotting on to the field. Even at that it was very difficult for "Shorty" to stick close to Flaherty's shadow throughout the preliminaries. Not that Shorty was afraid of Patsy or anything like that but what's the sense in taking any chances?

"Texas" Lohman was out in logs although not fully recovered from his attack of "shingles." Texas has not lost any of his ready wit and good humor in spite of his ailment and was the life of the local team's infield practice before hostilities began. But Kelly's throw around the first sack in the warm-up practice was noticeably more popper than it had been of late. His brace of safety yesterday and especially the wallop which an inquisitive youngster asked him to hop through the left field gate for a home run to have him pitched him up in great shape. He couldn't get enough work before the game.

A Young World Beater

The fact that Howard Fabey, the new Lynn infielder comes from Medford doesn't drink rum has caused the Lynn team to go into an ecstasy of delight. Fabey is a young fellow who knows a whole lot of Lowell people who don't drink Harvard, but who don't consider the fact of sufficient importance to publish their names. Speaking of Fabey, the item says: "Howard Fabey was born over in Medford where General Lawrence amassed great wealth by manufacturing rum but not in drinking it, therefore he is a total abstemious and left the Medfordshire vocation of making rum to secure an education."

He stood very well in his studies at the Medford high school, and also a little higher in the baseball world. In fact, he was regarded by sport writers as one of the best third basemen that ever played baseball on a high school team in this section of the country.

Leaving Medford he went to Dartmouth, where he was hailed with great glee as a possible solution for the perfect covering of the hot corner. He played such a remarkable game that Connie Mack secured his signature to a contract, to take effect the moment he matriculated.

At the close of his last school year he went to Philadelphia and for one year sat on the bench beside the illustrious McGillicuddy and learned the finer points of the game. At that time Home Run J. Franklin Baker was going like a whirlwind, therefore Cornelius, the great, shipped him to Oakland, Cal. While over there he was mixed up in a deal in which the Oakland club was going to trade him, together with two players named Maggert and Crabb for a first baseman named Daley.

The result of that deal was such that the national commission eventually declared Daley a free agent, and he started for the east as fast as a transcontinental train would bring him. He visited Philadelphia and Connie Mack told him not to sign anywhere until the following spring, which was this one.

He took Connie's advice, and, at the proper time, he appeared at Ocean park and offered himself to a contract with Manager Flaherty. The fans are pleased with the manner in which the young man is taking care of the sack. He makes errors and he also makes runs and bunts and he has stolen more than his share of bases, therefore he is a valuable asset and also a perfect gentleman. That is characteristic of the Lynn team.

And with all that fine touting, Howard didn't connect with the sphere for over a Texas leaguer in the last two frames, though well give him another chance today.

Scout Lost in Lynn

The fact that Red Ames, the Cincinnati pitcher witnessed yesterday's Lowell-Lynn game from the Lynn bench caused the Lynn players to swell up as Red was supposed to be doing a little scout duty. The Lynn team doing as Red was looking over Porter and Robinson but more likely if he was looking for anyone on the Lynn team he was after Arlie Latham. Ames undoubtedly got wind of the fact that Arthur Irwin had been giving the Lowell team the once over and hence blew down to Lynn to see what Arthur had in mind when he came to this city, or probably he went down to see if Clark and took in the game to kill time.

Stimpson, DeGroff and Greenhalge are safely over the 500 mark as batters while Weaver of Lowell has the distinction of such is, of being tied at 429 with Watkins of Portland for first place among the league batters though he has only played seven games and Watkins in six. Jimmie Strands of Worcester leads all who have played 20 games or over with 558. Stimpson has the honor at 554. Greenhalge, 554 and the Babe, 519. All the others are under 500, but there's time enough yet for them to show.

"Hard luck" said the scribble to Manager Gray before the game, referring to the weather. "It's a real rain," he said. "If it would only rain a little more, but then they're getting this weather all over the circuit and we're no worse off than the others." Gee, but it was cold at the grounds and the 500 fans, all immune from pneumonia, went out and seemed to have a good time. Lohman and Wacob were announced as the hitters and the fans questioned the wisdom of putting in a pitcher from Texas and a catcher from California on such a cold day but Lohman isn't afraid of the cold since he had himself thoroughly soaked as a protection against the weather. The water is better for the peace of mind than sitting on the bench with nothing more exciting to do than to get after the umpire.

Lynn sent in Bates, the southpaw to do the twirling while Umpire Doherty succeeded Black as the decision-maker for which the callant 200 were duly grateful. Rule DeGroff was there with his shoes nailed on yesterday.

First Inning

Porter, the first man up, looked as if a foot run would do him good. He is the fastest man on getting to first and got there this time when Dee took his grounder and threw back to Kelly and the latter made a great one hand stop or the ball would have been going yet. He had to go off the bag to get it. Dee had to go on and on but the fast guy on first was a dead one when he tried to start second for Wacob shot the ball to Dee and got him. Howard Fabey, who doesn't drink rum, opened with a single that went between Dee and Burke and out of reach of both. Lynn followed with a single to right field and Howard showed his running ability by getting to third. Howard proved to be a home kid, for he scored the first run on Murphy's long sacrifice fly to Stimpson in left center, which shows the advantage of abstaining from the festive booze. Greff after trying hard to break the ball into Lynn's hands finally sent up a high foul fly to Wacob and Wacob got it by gob, and the inning was over. One run.

Our hopefuls opened with Shorty Dee at the bat. Bates couldn't locate the plate and after waiting for a crack at the sphere for four long waits, Shorty said, "What's the use," and walked to first. Reuben Reuben had been thinking that young Bates was on the bum, so he waited for four bad ones; then the bases were filled. Stimpson at the bat and the crowd on their toes with Sgt. Finnelly's dog joining in the general excitement. The men on the bases became imbued with the prevailing spirit of hilarity and began to converse with Bates but what d'ye think? Matty, the heavy batter fanned out. Matty hit himself on the ankle with his own foul tip, then the night as well have hit the umpire. The game was held up while Matty wiggled the ankle into shape. Then Bates fanned out Matthews and received due recognition in the form of loud applause which he accepted modestly. On account of his wildness both Stimpson and Matthews attempted to wait him out on the ground that all comes to him who waits. They forgot that it's a poor rule that has no exception. Now they know. All three Lowell runners took a lead and started off after Wacob got three and two but Pete fooled them. Then Pete batted the sphere over left field fence and Doherty called it a foul to the great disappointment of the crowd.

It was foul by about two and 14-16ths inches. Wacob is a perfect ball, and once more he cracked the ball over the left field fence, this time the sphere going foul by about two feet, 7 1-4 inches. Then he proceeded to hit three other fouls and the men on the bases were having the exercise of their lives running back and forth. But Pete wasn't there and went out on a grounder to J. Smith. "Well, I had a crack at it," said Pete, as he took the customary "draught of water" before resuming hostilities. Bates received a hand as he meandered to the bench. His work was very similar to that of Ring in Saturday's second game, getting in a hole and then pulling out again. No runs.

Score: Lowell, 0; Lynn, 1.

Second Inning

Jay Smith fell a victim to Lohman's change of pace for it's never too cold to fan out. Willie Smith, however, proved to be no Jay for he hit over third for a double. Umpire Doherty called a strike on Moulton which Allie did not appreciate and Allie behaved badly, swinging his bat around and paying the ground real despothically. Allie is a regular cut-up when he gets vexed. Meanwhile Jay Smith and Greenhalge were continuing a little argument that started when Greenhalge cried out: "Who's that buster?" after Jay had failed to hit the ball. Jay got real thick and invited Snubber to come outside and see if he was a buster with the mitts. But Greenhalge's father told him never to fight and so he didn't go outside, to the disappointment of the ground which enjoys a good private fight. Bates singled to center but Matthews came in for the ball, giving Willie Smith a corner stand at third. Porter, who somebody said was attracting the attentions of the scouts, hit to Dee who threw home getting Willie Smith out. Porter beat Wacob's throw to first. Matthew ran into short center and took Fabey's fly. It was a decent finish to a bad inning. No runs.

In Lowell's half, Kelly sent up a foul fly back of third which Fabey ran over and took, like the accommodating youngster that he is. Nasher became involved with the Smiths, Jay getting his grounder and throwing to Willie Lohman hit to Jay Smith and Jay booting the ball, Lohman getting first. The Texas, who runs like Capt. Prouty's street department auto, that crushes rocks surprised everyone including himself by stealing second and getting Robinson at second. Murphy tried to away with it. Robinson made a swell catch of Dee's long hit to left. No runs.

Score: Lowell, 0; Lynn, 1.

Third Inning

Robinson sent up a high fly over the mound but Lohman was down below and when it came down it landed in Texas. Lohman hit Murphy on the right elbow and Doherty waved him to first, Murphy waiting himself to the bag. At this point conditions looked good for a little diversion in the line of a scrap for Greenhalge and Jay Smith who had continued their exchange of pleasantries went under for a grand stand quickly followed by Allie Moulton, Jimmie Gray and Sgt. Finnelly's dog who is right at home in a good healthy mixup. They returned in a moment. Smith informing the reporters that Greenhalge had changed his mind. Wacob got under Greff's foul fly and caught it.

Jay Smith, the scrapper, then singled to center; Matthews coming on the run and taking the ball on the first bounce with one hand. Matty threw to Burke at third to which station Murphy was speeding. It was a nice throw and Burke got the ball in time but Doherty called him safe—punk decision. Jay Smith drew Wacob's throw when he started to second. Dee took the ball and started to run Jay down the line, with one eye on third. He finally threw to Kelly and Kelly made a peer play throwing low to Shorty and while Shorty got Jay Smith, Murphy scored before the play was completed. One run.

W. Smith took DeGroff's foul fly over the first base bleachers after a hard run. Burke sent up a short fly to Fabey and the latter took it with his back to the ball. Stimpson grounded out, Moulton to Willie Smith. No runs.

Score: Lowell 0, Lynn 2.

Fourth Inning

Willie Smith hit sharply to Burke and Burke sharply threw him out at first. Moulton struck out, Bates was no better. Texas showing his rival three deceptive shots, the big South-erner getting better as he warmed up under the benign influence of work. No runs.

For the boys from home, Matthews started off with a single to left which might have found an abiding place in the outfield but for the restraining influence of the fence. The crowd yelled to Wacob for a hit; it's a privilege they have. Wacob was a good fellow and hit a hummer to left Matty going to second. Kelly, who is still enjoying the reputation made yesterday when he made a home run in the ninth that turned the tide at Lynn beach, received what the classy writers call an ovation. He laid down a pretty sacrifice and both base runners were promoted. Nasher hit a slow grounder to Fabey and Matthews brought in Lowell's first run. The Medford boy played it like a rummy with a bad throw to first and Nasher got on. Nasher wasn't content with first and stole second. Lohman who has broken up games a couple of times this year walked to the plate with a new weapon. The weapon wasn't dangerous but Lohman hit a grounder to Fabey, who nailed Wacob at the plate without a shadow of doubt. Nasher kept moving and brought up at the third sack. Dee was an easy out at first when he hit a grounder to Eat 'em alive Smith, brother of Willie. One run.

Score: Lowell 1, Lynn 2.

Fifth Inning

Only an hour and five minutes playing four innings. Some speed. The head of the list was up and Porter made two bases on a stinky Texas leaguer. Matthews trying to make a diving catch, touching bottom but not the ball. Fabey laid down a sacrifice to Lohman and Porter went to third. Robinson who somebody dreamed was fond for the scouts fanned out. Murphy hit a fast line drive at Lohman. Texas gave it a slap with his naked bat and it rolled toward third. Burke corralled it but couldn't get it first in time and Porter scored on the hit for such it was. Wacob caught Murphy off first by a quick throw to Kelly and in attempting to get back to first Murphy slipped and fell and was an easy out. One run. Mike Murphy, the handsome young Swede behind the bat for Lynn became real vocal when Doherty called a strike on DeGroff that looked like a strike, and objected. Doherty referred the objection to next year's government. Rubs had three balls and then fanned out. Burke hit to Willie Hope Smith, cousin of Willie, and Willie sent up a foul fly to Dee the gentle, which is Willie and was out. No runs.

Score: Lowell 1, Lynn 2.

Sixth Inning

In the sixth Greff hit a slow grounder to Burke and was out at first on a very close decision Burke making an historical throw, one of those that your father tells you about when you stay home nights. K. O. Smith hit a pop fly to Kelly and was out. Willie Smith fled out to DeGroff in short right and the lining had flown. No runs.

For Lowell, Matthews hit a slow grounder to Gunboat Smith who showed it to Brother Bill at first for a put-out. Bates batted a trio of slow curves to Wacob and they went no slow that Pate couldn't see them and was called out on strikes. Pete never took the bat from his shoulder until he gently laid it down with the others in front of the bench. Kelly was the next victim, for he, too, didn't fathom Bates' delivery. No runs.

Score: Lowell, 1; Lynn, 2.

Seventh Inning

That lucky seventh—perhaps. Lohman completely fooled Moulton handing him three elusive pills. The crowd wasn't charitably inclined toward the former Lowell second baseman and feared him unmercifully. Kelly made a put-out without the aid of a nelder when Bates smashed a grounder down to first. Porter showed some classy spritng on his grounder to Nasher but the ball beat him by the fraction of an inch or thereabouts. No runs.

The crowd across the street cheered the home team in the lucky—perhaps seventh. Nasher didn't show much of that kind of luck that gets the kais for he fanned. Lohman took three fine, vigorous, healthy swings at the sphere and the grass is still growing green in Texas. Shorty Dee evidently found the walking good for once more he walked to first. De Groff mashed the ball to right field for a single Porter making a fine stop while the Little One went to third. Had the ball got by Porter it would have been a home run. Burke came across with another single and Der scored. DeGroff getting to second. The Stimpson not to be an Old Fellow smashed another single but Lube was too ambitious and in attempting to score was thrown out at the plate by Porter. One run.

Score: Lowell, 2; Lynn, 2.

Eighth Inning

Fabey fled to Stimpson in left. Robinson went to first leisurely, walking the while. Murphy hit to Dee forcing Robinson at second. Murphy tried to steal second but it was only a try. No runs.

For Lowell, Matthews walked after taking the limit, three and two. Wacob sacrificed him to second. Kelly sent a foul fly to Murphy. Weaver went to hit for Nasher. He went out Fabey to W. Smith. No runs.

Score: Lowell, 2; Lynn, 3.

Ninth Inning

Greenhalge went to second for Lowell in the final inning relieving Nasher. Lohman hit Greff and sent him to first.

One round Smith sacrificed Greff to second. Dee ran into short left and took Willie Smith's fly. Moulton was safe on Dee's fumble of his grounder. Moulton ran toward second and Lohman started to chase him and Greff scored while Moulton reached second. Bates fled to Burke. One run.

In Lowell's half, Lohman fled to Greff. Dee fled to Fabey.

DeGroff doubled a deep right. Burke hit a hard one to Fabey who fumbled it and Burke was safe at first. Lube making third. Stimpson fled to Greff.

LICENSE OF COFFEE HOUSE REVOKED—NEW THEATRE LICENSES GRANTED

License Commissioner Charles H. Hanson, who recently met with a painful accident while in a Buffalo hotel, last night attended his first board meeting since his recent election. Minor licenses were granted. Served by each of the Owl theatre was refused a permit to sell ice cream cones in the playhouse on Sundays.

Another matter that occupied considerable time was relative to a sale of a coffee house at 486 Market street. An anonymous laundress claims that he purchased one-half of the coffee house and had received none of the profits. Although the license was in the name of Theodore Bounseas, one Christos Prapas had been a partner since the coffee house was opened. The board took the case under advisement and referred it to the Police Commissioner. He has not yet decided whether to grant the license to the partner when he first applied for a license.

The public amusement license held by Bennett & Snow for the Alhambra theatre at 230 Central street was surrendered and cancelled and re-issued to Charles H. Hanson. The Sunday permit of Mabel Allen at 113 Salem street was surrendered and cancelled and a permit issued to Mary St. Goddard on the same premises. The application of George Palatos for a common victualler license at 39 Jefferson street was laid over the table.

The following licenses were granted: Common victualler, Nicholas Theodorou, 410 Market street; Taxiway, John J. Sullivan, 30 Vermont avenue; Auctioneer, John J. Gray, 53 Central Public amusement park for baseball and football, Lowell Baseball club, Spaulding Park, Sunday permits, Robert Berkman, 19 Groton street; Mess, Kathleen, 22 Bridge street; James E. "LET THEM DIE!" CRY ANTI-SUFFRAGETTES IN LONDON AS MILITANTS BEGIN HUNGER STRIKES

LONDON, June 10.—"Let them die!" That's the cry of a big majority of the people who are opposed to the militant suffragettes. They think the only cure for the outrages which have stirred all England is to let the suffragettes starve themselves in jail until they die if they so choose to continue their hunger strikes. The recent burnings and the attempts to see the king in Buckingham palace during his birthday celebration have incensed the populace. Many who favor giving women the vote are opposed to the militant methods. The present outbreak may gradually die out, like other recent outrages, but the militants say they will be heard from until they win even if they have to die.

POLITICS MEANS DISSENSION

Says Georgia Woman at Chicago Convention of Women's Clubs—Is Opposed to Woman Suffrage

CHICAGO, June 9.—Three points of view on the question of an endorsement of women suffrage by the General Federation of Women's Clubs found expression here before a council of delegates this morning to outline the policy of the federation in its activities during the biennial convention which opens today.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, declared for endorsement. "I am against woman suffrage," said Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Georgia, "and I am opposed to bringing the question with its attendant train of politics into the federation. Politics means dissension."

THE CAMBRIDGE SUBWAY

And now it is the Cambridge subway that is being investigated. The Middlesex county grand jury, sitting in special session at East Cambridge yesterday morning, began an investigation of the cost of building the Cambridge subway, which was constructed by the Boston Elevated Co., at a cost of $7,500,000 and put into operation in March, 1912. It was provided in the act authorizing construction that the city of Cambridge could buy the subway at the end of 30 years for the cost of construction and interest. Whether or not the cost was greater than it should have been was the subject of yesterday's investigation. Col. William A. Gaston and other prominent men were called before the grand jury.

PUBLIC FUNERAL OF SALVATION ARMY VICTIMS OF EMPRESS OF IRELAND DISASTER

A public funeral and memorial service was held in the Arena, Toronto, Canada, for the Salvation Army members who were lost in the Empress of Ireland disaster in the St. Lawrence river. The picture shows the coffin in the center of the floor with a portion of the thousands whose hearts were heavy with grief over the great loss. Only a few bodies of the Salvationists were recovered, the others probably being in the ship at the bottom of the river. The army sustained a heavy loss, as hundreds of them were on the ship on their way to the world's congress now in session in London.

APPEAL IN KILLER CASE

CINCINNATI, O., June 10.—The appeal of the Chicago Federal league plan from the decree of U. S. INTER-STATE TRADE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The chamber of commerce of the United States sent in every member of the house and senate a letter containing an analysis of the referendum vote recently taken by the chamber relative to the proposed interstate trade commission bill. The analysis shows that business men generally favor this measure. A scrutiny of the vote cast shows, however, that there is a wide divergence of opinion between the organizations of different localities.

DUTY TO IMMIGRANT

One cannot get away from matters affecting the immigrant situation in this country, for there is scarcely any issue involving labor or social conditions that does not include the immigrant and matters connected with him. Then too, scarcely a lecture on historical, sociological or industrial subject or a trade review or a pamphlet on political economy but devotes space to past immigration and has its forecast of the future. Nor is this all: Occasionally some illiterate preacher with more zeal than judgment and more prejudice than conviction pours down visits of denunciation on the heads of all immigrants indiscriminately and blames them for all the ills that flesh is heir to as well as many things for which they can in no sense be held responsible. On the other hand, the warmest apostle for the immigrant cannot get away from the fact that there really is an immigration problem, and it is refreshing to see that leaders of opinion in this section of the country are not disposed to wait aimlessly by the waters of Babylon but are looking over the immigrant situation with an eye to making remedial regulations, governed by humane and economic influences rather than by racial prejudice or narrowness born of provincialism and intolerance.

Probably the most comprehensive and intelligent report made for many years on the immigrant situation was the report of the temporary legislative committee of Massachusetts, published last year. Indeed so thorough was it and so sane were its suggestions that press and public have taken up many phases of it and assisted their incorporation into the laws of the state. One of these recommendations was the suggested establishment of information centers to protect the immigrant against exploitation at the hands of some of his own race and against conscienceless strangers who would impose on him for financial gain. Such a center would also impress on him the fact that—contrary perhaps to usage in his own country—the American government is his friend and protector. No one can estimate the good that a recognition of these small human influences would make on the perplexed and receptive mind of the stranger to our shores, but neglect of them may be measured by industrial and social upheavals such as the Lawrence strike. The sins of the immigrant may be the sins of commission, but the sins of the state or the nation towards the immigrant are sins of omission.

By the intended establishment of a national employment bureau the federal government has given recognition to some phases of this immigrant situation, for one of the gravest abuses in the present situation is the overcrowding of some of the larger cities to the loss of the agricultural sections of the country. It has been estimated from government statistics that fully one-third of the immigrants who came here last year had had previous experience as farm laborers, yet not one per cent. of them went to the farms on their arrival. They simply swarmed into the nearest big cities, filling the labor markets with cheap labor and tending to the disruption of the labor situation in some important cities, especially in textile centers. All the while the farms of the country are suffering for lack of help, and though all immigrants would not care to take up farming and could not be expected to, many of them undoubtedly would do so if the government aided and encouraged them. The department of commerce and labor expects great things from its employment bureau, and it may have a very beneficial effect in solving some problems of the immigrant question.

It must also be apparent to Lowell people that occasionally some would-be "reform" agencies make the mistake of approaching immigrant matters with patronage and with such intentions. Quite naturally immigrants resent this to the utmost, perhaps, of those who err in misjudgment. No individual or agency can hope to have an uplifting effect unless it strives to get the good will of the immigrant body and approach its problems with disinterestedness and respect. All immigrants hold their traditions, racial characteristics and religious beliefs sacred, and those who would teach such people might advantageously learn from them in some important particulars. Those who are unskilled by nature, training or environment to approach immigrant problems in a broad spirit should leave them severely alone.

THE IRISH VOLUNTEERS

Sir Edward Carson's threats of civil war have brought upon him and upon the faction he represents such a series of disastrous boomerangs that they must regard him as a veritable hooper. In the first place he was charged with trying to reduce the army from the discharge of its duty and this alone brought strength to the liberals when they needed it very much.

Still he prosecuted the arrangements for civil war and a provisional government, gathering large numbers of men together, paying them in most cases for their time and their appearance while the photographers snapped them for the press agencies of the world.

Sir Edward felt that he could manufacture a public sentiment that would scare the government; but he was dealing with men who do not run away from scarecrows and so Premier Asquith, Chancellor George and John Redmond stood undismayed, estimating Carson at his face value and seeing through his warlike wiles. But the people of Ireland outside the four Orange counties, felt that if it were permissible to marshal volunteers in Ulster it was equally so in the rest of Ireland; and they began to organize and prepare to meet any trouble Mr. Carson might make. They had also a higher and a nobler purpose in view, to wit, the actual declaration of civil war if the home rule bill were defeated. But on May 25 the bill passed its final reading in the commons and will become law on receiving the king's signature. The thirty days during which it is to steer its way through the house of lords will expire on June 27 and after that, if not before, as a result of heavy rejection by the peers, it will be submitted for His Majesty's signature which will make the bill the law of the land.

The Nationalist volunteers now hold as their great purpose and mission the defense of the home rule law should a Unionist military attain power and attempt to repeal the measure. Once the bill goes on the statute book it will remain and no power can ever repeal it.

The Nationalists have now five volunteers for every one the Carsonites claim and they are not bluffs but young men in dead earnest, well drilled and disciplined.

It was the Irish volunteers that won Gladstone's parliament in 1882 and it will be the Irish volunteers that will defend Redmond's parliament should its existence ever be assailed. Thus not only will Ireland's parliament come; but thanks to Sir Edward Carson, it will come with 500,000 men pledged to fight for its maintenance and its protection.

What will Sir Edward do now? What of the civil war that was to follow the passage of home rule; what of the provisional government? These threats may as well be forgotten as they will never materialize. Moreover the prospect is that if the people of Ulster were granted the option of being excluded from the operation of the law, they would vote to cast their lot with the majority of the people of Ireland. There is an economic reason that will appeal to them quite strongly. Already the linen industries are going into bankruptcy through a falling off in orders from America, a direct result of Carson's campaign.

Thus it appears that the Ulsterites will accept home rule just as they accepted Catholic emancipation and the disestablishment of the English church in Ireland—with a protest followed by reluctant acquiescence. The so-called amending bill may or may not pass, but whether it does or not, the prospect at present is that the people of Ulster will join the other four-thirds of Ireland in making the most of home rule and in building up a prosperous Irish nation.

TURNING AGAINST MILITANTS

With amazing and to an American incomprehensible regularity, news of fresh militant outrages against king and church and property flashes over the wires from London. More and more during grow the senseless exploits until one may well wonder if the fanatic women are guided by any spark of reason or by any of the feelings of delicacy or shame that formerly surrounded even the worst women with an atmosphere of reverence. In the presence of the court or in the sacred interior of hushed churches such things degrade the name of womanhood and give way to outbursts of emotionalism and abnormality which show that they are as unfit for the ballot as they are unfit to move in the ranks of a sane and law abiding society.

One important change, however, is noted in the British incidents of militant outrage of late. No longer is the public tolerant. From time to time we have read of incidents of popular rage following their actions or declarations, but now every instance is followed by a description of the attitude of the crowd. The English public at last perceives, apparently, to meet violence with violence and many of the women leave their lives to prevent interference by the police. Those who invaded some of the churches last Sunday were chastised very roughly, even by other women, and at open-air meetings speakers were pelted with mud and threatened with serious injury. Why then the women of England will get the vote in the near future or not is problematical, but the fact remains.

A DEAR OLD LADY PRAISES COMFORT POWDER

Nurse Haddock of Grand Meadow, Minn., says: "My patient, a dear old lady 70 years of age, who had fractured her hip, pains me in praising Comfort Powder, as it has kept her back free from foot sores and all kinds of trouble. Comfort Powder is true to its name and I never want to be without it in the nursing and sick-room."

that their chances would have been far better had the militants never existed. It is not the English parliament but the English public in the last analysis that can grant their desires, and if they have antagonized the public, their cause is lost. Unless they recognize the trend of the times and abide by it they are in a fair way to work out their own destruction. Some of the most noted clergymen of England are reported to be in favor of letting the hunger strikers starve to death, and the government, too, is said to be contemplating far harsher measures of repression. At last it seems that the frenzy of the mad women of England has been suicidal. Many in this country will hope so, without appearing uncharitable.

SELLING BATTLESHIPS

It is strange that the plan of Secretary Daniels to sell two of our old battleships to Greece has not awakened more sentimental opposition, and it is an indication that occasionally the public can regard a government plan sanely and without hysteria. One of the arguments against armaments and navies is the enormous cost, and of this cost, the deterioration of battleships is no small item. There is no good reason why an occasional battleship should not be sold to some rising and friendly power instead of being battered as a target for never ships. In individual cases such as that of some ship which has featured in some notable victory it may be well to preserve it as a stimulus to the patriotism of future times, but usually the prosaic and uneventful life of an American battleship cannot be brought to a better end than by being sold to some other nation and the money applied to some useful purpose—peaceful if possible.

PRICES FALLING

Those who can view the business situation of this country without keeping one eye on Washington attest that for the past year the prices of some leading commodities has fallen materially, and business prophets are predicting a still greater drop for the future. A writer in financial America says that there would have been a far greater diminution in prices were it not that there was a great increase in the world's supply of gold for the past year, but he predicts a shrinkage in this supply speedily, with a resultant reduction in prices generally. Thus far the administration has been vindicated at least negatively in its tariff and other reforms; from now on the benefits to the masses may be of a positive nature.

If the good people who wasted so much energy in railing against "September Morn" wish to effect a much needed reform they will turn their attention to some of the lurid posters that make day and night hideous in the immediate vicinity of a few of the cheaper moving picture palaces. Not infrequently one sees some horrible illustration of murder or crime surrounded by little wide-eyed children who a generation ago would be lashed up back of the shed with a volume of fairy stories for children. Sensational and ultra-melodramatic pictures of bloody deeds tend to fill the impressionable mind of wondering youth with images that do not improve their mentality.

In the crotch of many a protecting tree in the garden and lawns of the city at the present time is a bird's nest with little ones waiting until time gives them feathers enough to fly like their mother. In all probability the nest and its inmates is of fascinating interest to the family cat and the cat next door. Those who know of such nests should protect them by surrounding the tree trunk with a barrier of lettuce wire.

Food from Rocks.

Do you know that the rocky coast of New England is the farm where grows one of the most tasty and nutritious of plants? For generations back our forefathers laboriously picked a certain kind of moss from the submerged rocks and after long tedious treatment and curing they cooked it into desert dishes. It meant hard work, though, was crude and insufficiently cleaned.

About 1869 a process was invented to thoroughly cleanse sea moss and by a careful system of desiccation and cereal blending the commercial article known as Sea Moss Farine was perfected.

The great convenience of this Farine promptly gave it a demand among housekeepers. It is used for the choicest desserts besides lending itself to the entire daily menu in some way or other. Sea Moss Farine is extremely nutritious and Blanc Mange made from it has long been the diet of invalids and convalescents who can retain it when other food causes distress.

Sea Moss Farine is entirely a vegetable product, pure and wholesome. It has just a suggestion of Old Ocean in it that tickles the palate and makes you look for more.

A FINE COMPLEXION

A girl's complexion is something more than a matter to concern her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Pallor in a growing girl means a thinning of the blood. The girl's complexion is the reflection of her blood. Parents should be watchful of their daughters' complexions, and should see to it that these danger signs are corrected, not covered up. When a girl in her teens becomes pale and sallow, especially if, at the same time, she shows an inclination to tire easily, a listlessness and inattention to her work or studies, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the condition from which she is suffering. A chemical analysis of the blood of such a girl would show it to be deficient in just the elements that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can supply. Every girl should read the chapter on "Chlorosis" in the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood." It tells just what to do and gives directions regarding diet, exercise and rest.

The girl with a muddy complexion should have the booklet "A Dainty Laxative," which tells about Pinkettes. These booklets will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist can supply Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

FIRST ANNUAL OUTING

Under Auspices of French American Naturalization Committee to be Held Sunday

The first annual outing under the auspices of the executive and naturalization committee of the French-American of this city will be held Sunday at Allardville in French near Long pond. The affair, it is expected, will be attended by about 500 people.

The affair will consist of a dinner at noon and the serving of refreshments in the afternoon. The receipts of the outing will go toward defraying the expenses of the naturalization committee in purchasing stationery, card indexes and other material used in connection with its work.

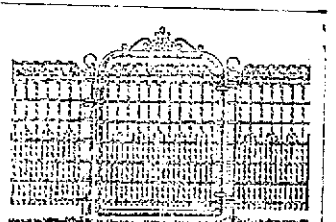

Through the efforts of the committee between 200 and 300 French-American residents of Lowell have taken out their first naturalization papers, while 45 have taken out their final papers, or in other words have become full fledged citizens of the United States. The committee has a system by which it keeps account of all the first papers taken out by French-Americans and when the time comes for them to take out their final papers they will be notified by the said committee.

The members of the committee in charge of the arrangements for this outing are as follows: Executive committee: Arthur Lavoie, John R. Racette, Charles Godreau, Ralph Monier and Philippe Chaput.

Naturalization committee: Maximo LeBlanc, David Deschamps, J. Z. Chouinard, Joseph Favette and Joseph Frechette.

CIVIL SERVICE SCHEME

At a regular meeting of the municipal council held this noon the petition of some of the city employees asking the council to place all city employees on the civil service list was killed after the result of the balloting of the employees themselves had been announced, which showed a majority of 55 votes against the said petition from a total of 633 votes cast.

The council voted to place Patrolman Frank H. Whitney on the pension roll, and decided to give another petitioner, Peter Donohue, an employee of the water department, a hearing next Tuesday. Considerable routine business was transacted and resolutions in reference to the death of Jacob Rogers, a former alderman, were adopted.

The Meeting

The meeting, which was scheduled for 11 o'clock, opened on a hour later, by Mayor Murphy and all commissioners were present. The first matter to be disposed of was a number of petitions from the Lowell Electric Light Co. and the New England Telephone Co. for pole locations and all were referred.

M. Schuman petitioned to have Ward street put in good condition and the matter was referred to the committee.

tioner of streets and highways. John J. Gilbride and others petitioned to have Prospect street macadamized and the said petition was also referred. On the petition of Charles E. Paille for permission to remove a building from Fourth avenue to Mt. Hope street, it was voted to give him a hearing on June 26.

Katherine B. Ready and Annie G. Roark presented claims for damages to personal property and both were referred to the city solicitor. Petition from the Lowell Motor Boat club for a license to keep gasoline was referred to the commissioner of public safety.

On the petitions of M. P. Murphy and G. A. Noyes, both were appointed assessors of lay and other articles. An order for the payment of $44.72 for bills incurred by the streets and highway department during the year 1913 was read and adopted.

Officer Whitney Pensioned

Mayor Murphy announced that he had received a communication from City Physician M. A. Tighe in reference to the physical condition of Patrolman Frank H. Whitney. In connection with the officer's petition that he be placed on the pension roll, and at the recommendation of the mayor all voted in favor of placing the officer on the pension roll.

A communication from the Massachusetts board of education was received, asking the city to co-operate with the board in repairing the sidewalks in the vicinity of the state Normal school. On motion of Commissioner Brown it was voted to communicate with the board and ascertain whether or not the work has already been given to a contractor and also to make an appointment with the said board for next Tuesday.

Fish Warden

A communication was received from the fish and game commissioners to the effect that Elmer H. Houghton of this city had been appointed city warden for the city of Lowell and inasmuch as it was believed that the appointment should read fish and game warden instead of city warden, action on the petition was deferred to a later date.

Charles G. Anderson, secretary of the Trades and Labor council and Edward J. Tierney sent communications to the council, condemning the action taken at the last meeting by which it was voted to leave the matter of placing the city laborers on the civil service list to the discretion of the men themselves, by having them cast a secret ballot on the matter. Both communications, which have already been published, were placed on file.

Mayor Murphy then announced that he had received several sealed envelopes containing votes from the civil service matter. He said the said ballots have been in the care of the city treasurer until this morning at which time they were turned over to a committee consisting of Miss Eleanor M. Churchill of the auditor's department, Miss Jean H. McIntire of the treasurer's department, and Miss E. Eleanor Rivest of the city solicitor's office, who opened the envelopes and counted the votes.

The report of the committee was as follows: Votes cast, 633; yes, 234; no, 371; blanks, 28. The report was accepted. It was then voted to leave the matter on the table for an indefinite period, which practically means that the petition is killed for this year at least.

Wants a Pension

Commissioner Carmichael read a petition from Peter Donohue, an employee of the water department, who asked to be placed on the pension roll. Mr. Carmichael said the petitioner is a veteran of the Civil war and has been an employee of the water department for the past 21 years. He said his present salary is about $699 a year and he stated if the council deems it necessary to give the petitioner a hearing he hopes the date will be next Tuesday, and it was voted to give the petitioner a hearing then.

Jacob Rogers' Death

Commissioner Carmichael then spoke on the death of Jacob Rogers, referring to him as one of the oldest and best known residents of this city, and former alderman and member of the legislature and he offered the following resolutions which were accepted:

"Jacob Rogers, a citizen of Lowell for more than 60 years, has passed in to the life beyond.

"Therefore, it is meet and proper that the municipal council of the city of Lowell in convention assembled should tender the sympathies of the citizens of Lowell to his family.

"Also to place in the records of the city he served so well, the deep regret we feel at the loss of a citizen of the highest integrity, and one who did so much for Lowell and its industries.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the above mark of esteem be placed on the records of this meeting.

The meeting then adjourned till next Tuesday.

HENRY L. WATSON

Manager of Tobin Printery Weds Miss Sullivan of Jamaica Plain

Henry L. Watson, the manager of Tobin's printery, was united in marriage today to Miss Mary Frances Sullivan, a popular and accomplished young lady of Jamaica Plain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Sullivan of that town.

The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at the church of Our Lady of Lourdes at 5.30 a. m. by the bride's brother, Rev. Charles J. Sullivan, D. C. L., secretary to Cardinal O'Connell. Rev. Fr. Sullivan was assisted in performing the ceremony by Rev. George A. Lyons, the pastor and Rev. John E. Sexton, D. D., of St. John's seminary, Brighton. Only immediate families of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony, which was simple but impressive. The bride was becomingly attired in ivory opera gown trimmed with lace, and wore a veil arranged in a cap effect caught up with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Bridget Agnes Sullivan, who wore pink champagne, draped with French lace, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The groom was dressed in a tuxedo and wore a white bow tie. The ceremony was held in the church of Our Lady of Lourdes, and the wedding feast was served at the home of the bride.

ACADEMY OF DIPLOMACY

CHICAGO, June 9.—The establishment of an American National academy of diplomacy on lines similar to those of West Point and the naval academy at Annapolis was advocated here last night by Curtis Guild, former governor of Massachusetts and former ambassador to St. Petersburg, in an address before the Chicago Bar association.

"American soldiers have the best possible education," said Mr. Guild. "It is more necessary that American diplomats should receive a thorough technical training. It is an international proverb that Russia has gained more by diplomacy than she has lost by war."

"The public is entitled to such a school, not only because America would be better represented abroad but because the diplomatic and consular services would thus be drawn open on a competitive basis to all American citizens as are the army and navy."

NEARLY AN ACCIDENT

A serious accident was narrowly averted about 10.30 o'clock this forenoon when the High street fire truck, responding to an alarm from box 132, at the corner of Main and Hanover streets, and only quick action on the part of the driver prevented a collision with the car used by the Massachusetts mills to carry cotton from the old Prescott mill to the factory across the street. Apparently the driver of that wagon should have stopped, looked back and listened before he started across the street. The fire was in the rear of a building owned by a Mr. Bartlett and located at 29 Hanover street. The damage was small.

UNIFICATION OF TIME

SENATE RATIFIES CONVENTION PROVIDING FOR ORGANIZATION OF INTERNATIONAL TIME ASSO.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The action of the senate in ratifying the convention providing for the organization of an international time association created considerable interest in scientific circles here today. Belief was expressed that this step would give impetus to the movement to secure unification of time throughout the world. Twenty-four other countries have subscribed to the convention and are expected to follow the lead of the United States in ratifying the instrument. Other nations are also expected.

The object of the association is the unification of time by the use of wireless telegraphy or other signals, whether they be of extreme precision or ordinary signals.

The delegation made a splendid appearance with their neat uniforms and big red cowboy hats. They received a great ovation as they passed through the crowded streets waving American flags. As the column came in sight of the American embassy, the band struck up the "Star Spangled Banner."

SAY HUERTA CANNOT NAME HIS SUCCESSOR

U. S. Delegates Opposed to Plan of Mediators and Mexican Delegates—Would Mean Recognition—Differences Over Method of Establishing New Government

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 10.—A dangerous obstruction to progress on a vital point of the mediation proceedings has arisen which again threatens failure for the negotiations. The United States has said to the mediators in unequivocal terms that it cannot consent to any method of transition of the executive power in the proposed new provisional government that can be construed as recognition of Huerta's administration. The mediators are insisting that General Huerta be permitted to make the appointment of the man agreed on here for provisional president. This, the American government absolutely refuses to accept, not only because it is committed against recognition of Huerta but because it has been informed by the constitutionalists that under no circumstances will they accept a peace plan which permits Huerta to exercise the constitutional function of naming his successor. On this point the mediators are blocked. Some of the principals have lost hope for a settlement but there is a growing confidence that the mediators will devise some method of bridging the difficulty rather than allow mediation to founder on the rocks.

Involved in the question of method in choosing the new provisional president is an underlying principle which if not settled now will certainly provoke other disagreements before any protocol can be signed. The American government is firm in its belief that the party predominating in the greater part of Mexico should be given the controlling share in the new government; that the constitutionalists are moving forward to undoubted conquest in Mexico City and that to prevent such a contingency concessions should be made which will make their acceptance of the peace plan possible.

SERIOUS DISAGREEMENT

AT NIAGARA CONFERENCE
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 10.—Determined effort was made today by the principals to the mediation conference to reconsider the differences of opinion that have arisen over the exact method by which the executive power in Mexico City shall be transferred from the hands of Gen. Victoriano Huerta to the individual to be agreed upon here for the provisional presidency of Mexico.

A serious disagreement has developed. Continued on page eight

REPORTED THAT 125 PERISHED IN STORM

Many Fishing Boats Lost in Storm Which Swept the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Chaleur Bay and Straits of Northumberland

CHATHAM, N. B., June 10.—Conflicting reports made it impossible today to determine definitely how many vessels had been lost in the storm which swept the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Chaleur bay and the Straits of Northumberland last Friday.

One report received this forenoon placed the number of dead at 125. Advertisers from Carquet said that 19 lives were known to have been lost, one vessel was missing and nothing was known of the fate of the crews of two vessels reported ashore on Pokesudis island.

Capt. Samuel Breen of the schooner Warren P., which arrived here last night, said that when he left Shippegan on Sunday afternoon he heard that more than 100 persons had perished, but he believed this was a great exaggeration. Carquet, Shippegan and Lameque, the headquarters of the Bay of Chaleur fishing fleet are remote points and because of broken wire communication it has been impossible to get accurate accounts of the storm damage.

The vessels that suffered from the gale were small schooners. Nearly every craft was manned only by members of a single family with the father in command and three or four relatives composing the crew.

tomobile which was going at a rate of between 5 and 6 miles an hour. The boy was thrown to the ground, one of the wheels run over his head and another over his body. He said he believed the accident occurred between 7:45 and 7:50 a. m. The boy was later taken away in the auto.

TROWN FROM EXPRESS WAGON
Thomas Battles, a driver for the American Express company, was thrown from his wagon in Moody street at Monument square shortly before the noon hour today and despite the fact that he fell headfirst he succeeded in holding the one rein which he had possession of and managed to stop his runaway steed. It seems that one of the shafts broke just around the corner in Dutton street and this allowed the wagon to run on the horse's heels. Mr. Battles lost one rein but managed to cling to the rein and the seat until the horse turned the corner and then he was thrown to the street, but he clung to the rein and stopped the horse. He was not injured.

WOMEN COMPLAIN ABOUT OILED STREETS

But Commissioner Charlie Morse Says That the Dear Things Will Get Used to the Oil—Congestion in Gorham Street—City Hall Gossip

Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, is not quite sure yet as to the popularity of the road oil that he is using on some of the streets in Lowell. He received not less than five complaints by telephone this forenoon from as many women and they don't like the oil the least little bit. They trumpeted their feelings right out over the wire and Charlie told them not to get excited that they would like the oil later on. He assured them that they were not the only women who had kicked about the oil, but that a majority of those who had kicked had repented and had offered apologies. One woman declared that

THREE CUP SLOOPS RACE

Defiance, Owned by Boston, New York and Philadelphia, Joined Vanitie and Resolute

ASSOCIATE PRESS BOAT, OFF SANDY HOOK, N. J., (By wireless)

June 10.—The yacht Defiance, owned by a syndicate representing New York, Boston and Philadelphia, joined the Vanitie and the Resolute for the first time today in the cup defense preliminaries off Sandy Hook. Ten minutes after the race started a working club topsail had proved such a handicap that the Defiance had dropped far behind. By noon three-quarters of an hour after the start Defiance was three miles astern of Resolute and Vanitie. The two leaders were well matched. Skipper Charles Francis Adams on the Resolute had the best of the start, crossing the line half a minute ahead of the Vanitie and a whole minute before the Defiance.

An hour after the race began Resolute still held the advantage gained at the start with Vanitie footing fast and trying to overcome her rival's lead. Defiance's skipper made no effort to mix with his rivals. He had hard work holding the nose of his sloop up into the wind and started a hunt for conditions favoring his crippled rig. He chose a course very close to the Jersey shore, where she picked up a strong wind which came more from the west than that which the other two boats were encountering. This enabled her to cut down some of the long lead because she was able to make a long fetch down the shore without tacking. In this maneuver Captain Selah Powell, whose home is at Highland beach, showed his intimate acquaintance with local alms. Meanwhile Resolute and Vanitie were making a thrilling contest. Both pointed high in the wind with their baby jibtopsails and negotiated the swelling sea with little difficulty. Resolute seemed the quicker in stays. An hour after the start she led her rival by a quarter of a mile. The breeze picked up a bit as the leaders approached the first mark off north Long Branch and headed out on the New Jersey headlands and crowded on the decks of excursion boats.

POLICE COURT SESSION

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE FISHER PRESIDED—BOY IN COURT ON CHARGE OF PROFANITY

George R. Flynn, one of a number of boys who it is alleged were committing a disturbance on the North common last Friday evening, was brought before Associate Justice Fisher in police court this forenoon on a complaint charging him with using profane language. Through his attorney, William A. Hogan, he pleaded not guilty and after the evidence was presented the court ordered him discharged as he was not satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was the one who used the profanity.

When the case was called, Captain Prousen, acting as prosecuting officer, asked for a continuance as some of the government's witnesses had failed to make an appearance, but this was objected to by Lawyer Hogan, who had several witnesses in the court room. Several witnesses were sworn in for the defendant including his mother and Principal Fisher of the Industrial school but after hearing the evidence of the defendant and one other witness Judge Fisher ordered the indictment stating that he thought the officer might have been confused.

George R. Flynn was called to testify. He is 18 years of age, and lives at 200 Cross street. He claims that on last Friday evening he left his home about 8:15 o'clock after returning from a bicycle ride, and walked to the North common where he found six or eight companions sitting on a bench. The defendant said that they had been talking in but a short time when one of the crowd cried "Cheese it, the cop," and all got up from their places and ran away but himself. The witness claims that the officer came up behind him and hit him on the face and then made an attempt to kick him. After that he walked away and told the arresting officer that he would make him pay for striking him and he alleges that

Three Spindle at Boy
John Teixeira was carrying an iron spindle along Charles street early yesterday morning and upon seeing one Manuel Spirlia, aged about 12 years, walking along the street he threw the article at him and it stuck into his back inflicting a cut which required treatment at the Lowell hospital.

It seems that a few days ago Manuel called John names which did not please him and yesterday morning when they met Manuel threw the spindle at him. His Honor believed that the act was done more for play than anything else and he ordered the case pinned on file. William C. Mahan, non-support of minor child, was placed on probation on condition that he pay the sum of $4 weekly to support the child. One man was given a suspended sentence to the house of correction for drunkenness while another was asked to pay a fine of $5.

Mrs. William Graham of 277 High street, will have as her guest for the next two weeks her friend, Mrs. Ada Holliday of North Vassalboro, Me.

EIGHT PERISHED IN NEW YORK TENEMENT FIRE

Five Women and Three Men Burned to Death, and Eight Badly Injured in Fire That Destroyed Old Style East Side Tenement in New York This Morning

NEW YORK, June 10.—Eight persons, five of them women, were burned to death and eight more were badly injured in a fire that spread through an old style East Side tenement early today. More than a score others were less seriously hurt. The fire was discovered under the stairs shortly before four o'clock by a tenant who raised the alarm. The fire whirled through the tenement so rapidly that every escape was cut off before most of the tenants had been aroused.

SUNDAY AUTOUSE

Senate Committee on Rules Gives a Hearing on the Bill

BOSTON, June 10.—A hearing on the bill which provides that "it shall not be unlawful to operate an automobile on the Lord's Day" was held yesterday afternoon before the senate committee on rules, which must decide whether the bill should be admitted at the present session. The committee took no further action yesterday.

According to what is held a strict interpretation of chapter 23 of the revised laws, the observance of the Lord's Day, no automobile may be run on Sunday, even by its owner, unless it be upon an errand of necessity or charity.

William A. Davenport, an attorney of Greenfield, and Attorney Ellsworth of the Automobile Association appeared in behalf of the measure, to which document was attached a numerously signed petition.

The story is that there is an automobile "bus" running between Greenfield and Turners Falls and that its operation has affected the patronage of the Connecticut Valley Street Railway company. An attorney of the latter discovered, it is said, that the "bus" being an automobile, had no rights on the road on the Lord's Day. The driver of the "bus" and another party were haled into court, but their sentences were suspended.

Mr. Davenport and Ellsworth urged that since the driving of horses and carriages was exempted long ago from the provisions of the Sunday law, the automobile, which has in a large measure supplanted them, should be given the same exemption and for the same reason.

Mr. Lawlor, who represented the Connecticut Valley Street Railway company, opposed admission of the bill.

The committee gave a hearing to Senator Turback on his bill for a commission to investigate the industries of Massachusetts. There was no opposition.

BARS BLIND TEACHERS

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION GIVES DECISION ON MISS CURRAN'S CASE

BOSTON, June 10.—That there is no opportunity for the service of blind teachers in the public elementary schools of the state and that Miss Mary J. Curran, the blind girl who petitioned the state board of education for permission to teach in the public schools, is not entitled to receive a diploma, is the substance of the board's decision, made public yesterday.

The board says: "Miss Curran, who is totally blind, cannot do the work of a teacher as prescribed by the regulations which are prescribed for teaching. She was admitted only as a special student. As such she will be entitled, on completion of such work as she can do satisfactorily, to a recommendation from the Normal school faculty to the board of education that a person be granted her which, on its face, will indicate the work which she was accomplished."

"The board is of the opinion that by reason of her blindness it will be impossible for her to do the full work required, and that, therefore, under no circumstances can she be admitted to a diploma."

"No schools for the blind now form part of the public school system of the state and blind children are not taught in the public schools."

Mr. W. A. Clark, called the convention to order at 2 o'clock and, in the presence of President, gave a talk on the "General Business of the Coal Industry." Clark appointed a committee consisting of three, who report on the business of the industry, and a committee of three, who report on the financial condition of the industry.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Young Woman Hurlled Through Window and Escaped Injury

SPRINGFIELD, June 10.—Miss Agnes Nichols of 81 Euclid avenue was struck by an automobile and hurled through a plate glass window on Main street yesterday afternoon, but escaped injury.

The machine, owned and driven by Charles Davis of West Springfield, proceeded down Main street, it skidded on the slippery pavement and headed for the sidewalk. The crowd scattered and all escaped save Miss Nichols, who was picked up by the machine and thrown through the window.

When the car hurled Miss Nichols was standing directly in front of the shop window. When she came down she landed on a pile of linen. Witnesses of the accident, who rushed to the assistance of the young woman, were amazed when told that she was unhurt.

She was able to go to her home immediately after the accident. There were no lacerations or scratches on her body and other than the shock, she suffered no ill effects. The front of the automobile was somewhat damaged.

LEAPS TO HIS DEATH

MARGOLIES JUMPS FROM WINDOW OF NEW YORK GRAND JURY ROOM—JURY SANITY DOUBTED

NEW YORK, June 10.—James Margolies, a former prisoner, jumped from a window of the grand jury room on the fourth floor of the criminal courts building last night and was instantly killed.

He had received permission to talk with his relatives, but instead of talking he leaped from the window. Margolies, who was 29, was being examined as to his sanity.

He was charged with having struck a girl on the head with a hammer.

MAN STILL MISSING

NO WORD FROM DAVID SURPRENANT, WHO DISAPPEARED THREE WEEKS AGO

The whereabouts of David Surprenant, the young man who left his home on Sunday street three weeks ago, is still unknown and the young man's parents have almost given up all hopes of seeing him alive.

The young man left his home two weeks ago last Saturday morning and although he was seen the following day nothing has been heard from him since. The young man, who was believed to be mentally deranged, is believed to have been seen by the parents of his home and they are positive he would return to his home for food. Detectives were set on the trail of the young man but they have given up all hopes and accordingly have stopped their search.

Mrs. Telephone Trudel of 12 Gardner avenue is also of a loss to make out where her husband is at present. It will be remembered that Trudel left his home three weeks ago last Saturday after drinking for two days at the hotel where he was employed, and no word has been received from him since.

GRANTED MINOR LICENSES

LICENSE OF COFFER HOUSE REVOKED—NEW THEATRE LICENSES GRANTED

Licenses Commissioner Charles H. Hanson, who recently met with a painful accident while in a Buffalo hotel, last night attended his first board meeting since his recent election. Minor licenses were granted. Samuel Orbach of the Owl theatre was refused a permit to sell ice cream cones in the playhouse on Sunday.

Another matter that occupied considerable time was relative to a sale of a coffee house at 186 Market street. Anaristos Lazaropoulos claims that he purchased one-half of the coffee house and had received none of the profit. Although the license was in the name of Theodoros Roumises, one Charles Prassas had been a partner since the coffee house was opened. The board took the case under advisement and revoked Roumises' license on the grounds that he had not told the board that he had a partner when he first applied for a license.

The public amusement license held by Bennett & Snow for the Alhambra theatre at 220 Central street was surrendered and cancelled and reissued to Charles H. Pierce. The Sunday permit of Mabel Allen at 113 Salem street was surrendered and cancelled and a permit issued to Mary St. Goddard on the same premises. The application of George Palantinos for a common victualler license at 59 Jefferson street was laid upon the table.

The following licenses were granted: Common victualler, Nicholas Theodore, 110 Market street; Taxiway, John J. Sullivan, 50 Vassar avenue; Amusement park for baseball and football, Lowell Baseball club, Spaulding Park, Sunday permits; Rebecca Benson, 16 Horton street; Joseph K. Hill, 25 Bridge street; James E. Kinney, 1629 Gorton street; Kahl Ahn, 180 East Merrimack street; Arthur E. Redman, 156 Lilley avenue; Arnes Barlow, 321 Lakeview avenue; Hawker and pedlar, Frank Reed, 231 Appleton street; Express, Walter E. Smith, 36 West Meadow road; George E. Feeney, 59 Whipple street. To sell ice cream on the public streets, Versilios Anastasin, 5 Little street; George Karabekas, 60 Dunmer street.

"LET THEM DIE!" CRY ANTI-SUFFRAGETTES IN LONDON AS MILITANTS BEGIN HUNGER STRIKES

LONDON, June 10.—"Let them die!" That's the cry of a big majority of the people who are opposed to the militant suffragettes. They think the only cure for the outrages which have stirred all England is to let the suffragettes starve themselves in jail until they die if they so choose to continue their hunger strikes. The recent burnings and the attempts to see the king in Buckingham palace during his birthday celebration have incensed the populace. Many who favor giving women the vote are opposed to the militant methods. The present outbreak may gradually die out, like other recent outrages, but the militants say they will be heard from until they win even if they have to die.

POLITICS MEANS DISSENSION

Says Georgia Woman at Chicago Convention of Women's Clubs—Is Opposed to Woman Suffrage

CHICAGO, June 9.—Three points of view on the question of an endorsement of woman suffrage by the General Federation of Women's Clubs found expression here before a council of delegates this morning to outline the policy of the federation in its activities during the biennial convention which opens today.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association, declared for endorsement. "I am against woman suffrage," said Mrs. Fitzpatrick of Georgia, "and I am opposed to bringing the question with its attendant train of politics into the federation. Politics means dissension."

Colonel Donald K. Patillo officiated as one of the judges at the annual field day of the cadets at Stage Fort park, Gloucester on Friday. He was accompanied by an honorary staff of officers, consisting of Lieut. Col. Francis Duffy, Major George Thomas, Adit. Herbert Taylor, Capt. Harold Bartlett, Lieut. Albert Evans and Gerald Baron. In the evening they were the guests of honor at a banquet tendered to the officers of the Gloucester Battalion by Col. Edward Haskell of Newton the donor of the Haskell medals. THE CAMBRIDGE SUBWAY

And now it is the Cambridge subway that is being investigated. The Middlesex county grand jury, sitting in special session at East Cambridge yesterday morning, began an investigation of the cost of building the Cambridge subway, which was constructed by the Boston Elevated Co. at a cost of $7,500,000 and put into operation in March, 1912. It was provided in the act authorizing construction that the city of Cambridge could buy the subway at the end of 20 years for the cost of construction and interest. Whether or not the cost was greater than it should have been was the subject of yesterday's investigation. Col. William A. Gaston and other prominent men were called before the grand jury.

PUBLIC FUNERAL OF SALVATION ARMY VICTIMS OF EMPRESS OF IRELAND DISASTER

A public funeral and memorial service was held in the Arena, Toronto, Canada, for the Salvation Army members who were lost in the Empress of Ireland disaster in the St. Lawrence river. The picture shows the coffins in the center of the floor with a portion of the thousands whose hearts were heavy with grief over the great loss. Only a few bodies of the Salvationists lost were recovered, the others probably being in the ship at the bottom of the river. The army sustained a heavy loss, as hundreds of them were on the ship on their way to the world's congress now in session in London.

A scrutiny of the vote cast shows, however, that there is a wide divergence of opinion between the organizations of different localities.

MITCHELL BOYS SCHOOL

Annual Prize Day Was Held With Large Attendance — Fine Program Rendered — The Winners

Never in the long history of the Mitchell Boys school did it look more inviting than this morning, when hundreds of the parents and friends of the students gathered to attend the annual prize day exercises that marked the closing of this school. Not only were people from Lowell and Billerica present but from many neighboring and distant states came relatives and intimate friends of the students. Before the formal opening, which consisted of Batts manual and competitive prize drilling many of the ladies and gentlemen friends, led by the students walked through the spacious grounds and the beautiful buildings. JILTED MAN SHOT SELF

YOUNG MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE AFTER GIRL REFUSED TO MARRY HIM

NORTH SULLIVAN, Me., June 10.—After a lovers' quarrel during which he was told she would not marry him, Vernon Dockham, 20, left the home of a North Sullivan girl last night, declaring that he would kill himself. His threat was not taken seriously. When a shot was heard outside it was supposed it was a bluff and no investigation was made. Dockham's body was found outside the house this morning. Officials decided he took his own life.

FLEE FOR THEIR LIVES

GOVERNMENT LEAVES BROKE AND FLOODS SWEEP THROUGH COLORADO VILLAGES

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 10.—The government leaves protecting the Mojave reservation from the Colorado river broke yesterday, according to a despatch from the Needles. The floods swept through the village and the Indians were forced to flee for their lives. Livestock left behind was drowned. The crest of the flood apparently has passed Needles but has made the situation there critical, as it caused the current to shift and eat into the bank. The river last night stood at 22 feet at Needles, the highest stage ever recorded there. At Beards on the Santa Fe river six miles below Needles the river was level with the top of the dike and was flooding houses.

flowered lawn, and at 11 o'clock a detachment of the boys' military company marched out on the field and went through the different exercises peculiar to Batts Manual. The way the boys wielded their heavy guns elicited much applause from their spectators. Following this came the competitive prize drill. After much wading out the judges came to a decision but withheld it until the last number. Rewards were then taken and the guests were treated to a delightful banquet which was given under the shade trees on the lawn. The boys partook of their last meal together in the drill shed and it was indeed a merry gathering.

At 2 o'clock the closing exercises took place in the large assembly hall. The opening address was given by Charles Winslow Kidder, a former classmate of Mr. M. C. Mitchell, the founder.

His speech was on the founder of the school, Moses Campbell Mitchell.

"HURRAH FOR ANARCHY"

Shouted Strike Rioters After Big Clash With Police and Troops in Rome—Other Riots

ROME, June 10.—Another serious riot in connection with the general strike of Italian workmen occurred near the labor exchange today. A body of strikers trying to reach the center of the city came into contact with strong forces of police and troops, who broke up the parade. Some of the more determined strikers endeavored to erect a barricade while others rushed to the roofs of houses and pelted the soldiers and policemen with tiles, shouting "Hurrah for anarchy!" Detachments of infantry today occupied the main strategic positions of Rome and troops of cavalry patrolled the principal thoroughfares. Over 900 arrests were made today. So far the extreme party among the workmen has been unable to bring about a general strike on the railroads. At Fabriano, however, a mob took possession of the unprotected railroad station, removed the trucks and cut all the telegraph and telephone wires. Similar outrages were committed at Imola.

STRIKERS PELTED PAVING BLOCKS AT SOLDIERS AT MILAN, ITALY

MILAN, Italy, June 10.—An encounter between the troops and riotous strikers here today resulted in the wounding of a number of soldiers and workmen. The strikers used the paving stones of the Cathedral square as missiles. Many of the men were arrested.

GUARD STRIKEBREAKERS

PITTSBURGH, June 10.—Three carloads of strikebreakers were taken into the Westinghouse Electric company's plant here early today. They were in charge of 50 armed guards.

Strikers, informed of the new move were kept well under control by their leaders. There was an orderly march to Wilmerding and Swissvale, where the shops of the Westinghouse airbrake company and the Union Switch & Signal Co. are located.

DUMP FIRE IN STATE STREET

A telephone alarm was sent in at 1.37 o'clock this afternoon and hose 11 was sent out to investigate what proved to be a dump fire on State street. The firemen soon had the blaze under control before any damage was done to adjacent property.

MISS WILSON'S DENIAL

THAT SHE IS ENGAGED SETTLES PERSISTENT RUMOR AT WASHINGTON

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Miss Margaret Wilson, the only unmarried daughter of President Wilson, has no immediate intention to change her lot of single-blessedness.

Rumors that have been floating around Washington that she was engaged to Dr. B. Carey Grayson, the president's aide, were denied with positiveness by Miss Wilson herself when seen in this city shortly after visiting the office of her physician.

"There is absolutely no truth in a report that I am engaged to anyone," she said, "that is merely baseless gossip."

WIND HELD UP HARVARD CREW

RED TOP, Conn., June 10.—A strong southwest wind and a choppy sea, curtailed the practice of the Harvard crews today. The forenoon work for all of the boats consisted simply of a half mile row down stream and return. No attempt at speed was made.

NO PRACTICE FOR YALE CREW

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 10.—Conditions on the course today were so bad the combination of high wind and strong tide kicking up a nasty sea that coaches did not allow the Yale crews to go out for the usual morning row. The squad, freshmen and varsity men, together with the coaches went on a cross country hike covering between three and four miles.

WOMEN COMPLAIN

she wouldn't offer any apologies if the oil should turn to gold.

"The trouble about the oil," said Mr. Morse, "is that the children go out and play in it while it is yet wet and of course they carry it into the house on their shoes. Some women will insist upon standing in a pool of oil waiting for a car while there are dry spots all around her."

But all of the women in Lowell are not complaining about the oil. After having heard from the five rather irate women over the phone today Mr. Morse had a caller in the person of a rather mild and timid woman who looked up into Charlie's face and told him the oil was "just too sweet for anything."

The women, however, are not the only ones kicking about the oil, for it was stated today that street car conductors on certain lines are up in arms against what they term a "detrimental nuisance." Men, women and children, they say, track the oil into the cars and that both the odor and the oil remain for days.

Gorham Street Congestion

Mr. Morse is up against it a little bit in Gorham street, too, but the oil hasn't anything to do with the Gorham street trouble. The paving work is going on between Davis square and Moore street and the street is very narrow at certain points. The street railway company is putting in another crossover opposite the Globe hotel and this, of course, takes up considerable room. Mr. Morse says, however, that he hasn't any apologies to offer for the congestion in Gorham street. "If there was any way of widening the street I would gladly do so," said the alderman, "but as a matter of fact the delay or inconvenience there is not so very great and we will get through with the work as quickly as possible."

Fish and Game Commissioner

If you are sound physically, good marksman, good eyesight, good walker and runner; fearless and able to stand fatigue and exposure and a good judge of birds and quadrupeds, fish, and the various song and insectivorous birds, you are in line for a job as deputy fish and game commissioner, but unless you have these and other qualifications that would admit you to the primitive man's class, row 'way out in the pond while the examination is going on, for a competitive examination is to be held pretty soon and the fellow who grabs it will have an earning capacity of at least $50 a month. Here is a copy of the notice of the examination as received at the city clerk's office today:

ing, or constable and police experience, preferably both.

The examination will consist of a sworn statement of training and experience, handwriting, an accuracy test, report writing, arithmetic, and practical questions on the fish and game laws, on fresh and salt water fish, on game birds and quadrupeds, and on other animals protected by law. In addition to the above, candidates will be given a thorough test in identifying specimens of fish and specimen birds.

Successful candidates will be subjected to a physical examination which will include a test of the eyes for sight and for color blindness. Only male citizens of the United States, between the ages of 20 and 45 who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year, have the right to apply.

Men desiring to undergo this examination may secure application blanks by applying in person or by letter, at the office of the civil service commission, room 112, State House, Boston. Applications may be filed at any time, but in order that applicants may be entitled to appear at this examination, the blanks should be filed on or before June 24th, 1914, at 5 p. m.

CITY HALL NOTES

Bids on two cars of rats, one for the street department and the other for the health department, were opened in the purchasing agent's office today. The bids were as follows: J. B. Cover, $1 cents; Joseph Mullin, 50 cents; Wilder and Watten 50 cents; Paul Vigeant 50 cents. Mr. Vigeant did not send any sample and his bid, it was stated, will not be considered.

When Agent Walker, representing the Lawrence Mfg. Co., offered a strip of land in Alken street for playground purposes on condition that the tax would be abated, everybody thought, at first blush, that the offer was a very promising one, but when it became known that the tax would amount this year to about $700 it didn't look so good, and there's a bare possibility that the park commission will decide to use the Greenhalge school grounds instead, though the school grounds are not as centrally located.

John W. Kernan, superintendent of parks, is arranging for a bubble fountain at Sheed park. It will be installed in a day or two.

In reply to a question, Purchasing Agent Foye said today that he would purchase a Knox machine only on the vote of the municipal council.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John H. McGuiggin and Miss Elizabeth Kinney were married Monday at a nuptial mass celebrated at the Sacred Heart church by Rev. Fr. Wood, O. M. I. The couple were attended by Miss Sarah McGuiggin, a sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. George Kinney, a brother of the bride. The bride wore a blue silk gown and a picture hat, while the bridegroom was attired in blue silk. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. McGuiggin left on a honeymoon trip to Boston, Providence and Woonsocket, R. I.

DUTY TO IMMIGRANT

One cannot get away from the fact that the immigration situation in this country, for there is a serious and acute problem of labor and social conditions that demand the attention of the nation, is a problem of the most serious nature. It is a problem that has been discussed in the past, and it is a problem that will continue to be discussed in the future. The immigration problem is a problem that has been discussed in the past, and it is a problem that will continue to be discussed in the future. The immigration problem is a problem that has been discussed in the past, and it is a problem that will continue to be discussed in the future.

Probably the most comprehensive and intelligent report made for many years on the immigration situation was the report of the temporary legislative committee of Massachusetts, published last year. Indeed, as this report was issued, it was the only report of its kind that had been made in this country. The report was a report that was made by a committee that was composed of men who were well known in the state, and it was a report that was made in a way that was both thorough and impartial. The report was a report that was made by a committee that was composed of men who were well known in the state, and it was a report that was made in a way that was both thorough and impartial.

By the proposed establishment of a new and independent board, the federal government has taken a step that is a step in the right direction. The proposed board is a board that is to be composed of men who are well known in the state, and it is a board that is to be made in a way that is both thorough and impartial. The proposed board is a board that is to be composed of men who are well known in the state, and it is a board that is to be made in a way that is both thorough and impartial.

Turning against militants. With some and against an American in a somewhat peculiar manner, the immigration problem has been discussed in the past, and it is a problem that will continue to be discussed in the future. The immigration problem is a problem that has been discussed in the past, and it is a problem that will continue to be discussed in the future.

It is not also to be forgotten that Lowell is a city that is well known in the state, and it is a city that is to be made in a way that is both thorough and impartial. The immigration problem is a problem that has been discussed in the past, and it is a problem that will continue to be discussed in the future.

THE IRISH VOLUNTEERS

It is not also to be forgotten that Lowell is a city that is well known in the state, and it is a city that is to be made in a way that is both thorough and impartial. The immigration problem is a problem that has been discussed in the past, and it is a problem that will continue to be discussed in the future.

A BEAR OLD LADY

PRaises COMFORT POWDER

Not a day goes by without some one of our friends writing to us and telling us of the good results they have obtained from the use of Comfort Powder. It is a powder that is well known in the state, and it is a powder that is to be made in a way that is both thorough and impartial.

that their chances would have been far better had the militants never existed. It is not the English parliament but the English public in the last analysis that can grant their desires, and if they have antagonized the public, their cause is lost. Unless they recognize the trend of the times and abide by it, they are in a fair way to work out their own destruction. Some of the most noted clergymen of England are reported to be in favor of letting the hunger strikers starve to death, and the government, too, is said to be contemplating far harsher measures of repression. At last it seems that the frenzy of the mad women of England has been suicidal. Many in this country will hope so, without appearing uncharitable.

SELLING BATTLESHIPS

It is strange that the plan of Secretary Daniels to sell two of our old battleships to Greece has not awakened more sentimental opposition, and it is an indication that occasionally the public can receive a government plan calmly and without hysteria. One of the arguments against armaments and navies is the enormous cost, and of this cost, the deterioration of battleships is no small item. There is no sound reason why an occasional battleship should not be sold to some rising and friendly power instead of being battered as a target for newer ships. In individual cases such as that of some ship which has featured in some notable victory it may be well to preserve it as a stimulus to the patriotism of future times, but usually the private and uneventful life of an American battleship cannot be brought to a better end than by being sold to some other nation and the money applied to some useful purpose—peaceful if possible.

PRICES FALLING

Those who can view the business situation of this country without keeping one eye on Washington attest that for the past year the prices of some leading commodities has fallen materially, and business prophets are predicting a still greater drop for the future. A writer in Granet America says that there would have been a far greater diminution in prices were it not that there was a great increase in the world's supply of gold for the past year, but he predicts a shrinkage in this supply speedily, with a resultant reduction in prices generally. Thus far the administration has been vindicated at least negatively in its tariff and other reforms; from now on the benefits to the masses may be of a positive nature.

If the good people who wasted so much energy in railing against "September Mourning" wish to effect a much needed reform they will turn their attention to some of the lurid posters that make day and night hideous in the immediate vicinity of a few of the cheaper moving picture palaces. Not infrequently one sees some horrible illustration of murder or crime surrounded by little wide-eyed children who a generation ago would be crunched up back of the shed with a volume of fairy stories for children. Sentimental and ultra-melodramatic pictures of bloody deeds tend to fill the impressionable mind of wondering youth with images that do not improve their mentality.

In the crotch of many a protecting tree in the garden and lanes of the city at the present time is a bird's nest with little ones waiting until time gives them feathers enough to fly like their mother. In all probability the nest and its inmates is of fascinating interest to the family cat and the cat next door. Those who know of such nests should protect them by surrounding the tree trunk with a barrier of lettuce wire.

So Teddy had a "bully time" with Alfonso during that repeat at La Granza. In that three-hour history chat he had time in plenty to tell of his mighty achievements. Wonder did he refer to San Juan hill?

Three of the sweetest things in all the world: June brides, June graduations, June roses.

SEEN AND HEARD

Matrimonial bonds are negotiable. A good bluff makes more noise than great riches. Most of us could do a lot of work while trying to doze it. It's easier to induce a man to accept a favor than take a joke. A financier may be a get-rich-quick promoter who gets by with it. Every girl of 16 summers is anxious to join the hand-holders' union. It's a wise father that knows as much as his own son. The man who wears congress garters wonders how the shoe-string peddler makes a living. Followers of the fashions are never as a rule behind them. The man who is satisfied with himself is very easily satisfied. Happiness often consists of being next in a crowded barber shop. Many a ball-room dress in covering a warm heart reaches its limit. The unkindest cut of all is your portrait in the country newspaper. The trouble maker is easy, and it can always be borrowed at low rates. Executive ability is the faculty of getting some one to do your work. It's always surprising how much deeper a hole is after one gets into it. Old age brings experience, and some kinds of experience brings old age. There are not as many men in the world as there are heroes in the novels. The man who persists in doing his fellowmen, usually ends by doing them. Solitary meditation naturally gives some people a poor opinion of mankind. When life is not worth living, you can nearly always blame it on the liver. There are more things in some newspapers than heaven and earth can boast of. No matter how cruel fate may be, the washerwoman always manages to hang out. What the social system of this country needs most is a good blood purifier. The greater the hurry you are in, the more likely your shoe strings are to break. Photographs are representations that flatter others and do ourselves an injustice. Sleep is conducive to beauty. Even a silk hat looks worn when it loses its nap. Some jokes should be printed on thin paper so the reader could see through them. The cheapest watch made will not

A girl's complexion is something more than a matter to concern her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Fall in a growing girl means impurities in the blood. Parents should be watchful of their daughters' complexions, and should see to it that these danger signs are corrected, not covered up. When a girl in her teens becomes pale and sallow, especially if, at the same time, she shows an inclination to tire easily, a listlessness and inattention to her work or studies, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the condition from which she is suffering. A chemical analysis of the blood of such a girl would show it to be deficient in just the elements that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can supply but the physical signs are plain. Every girl should read the chapter on "Chlorosis" in the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood." It tells just what to do and gives directions regarding diet, exercise and rest.

The girl with a muddy complexion should have the booklet "A Dainty Laxative," which tells about Pinkettes. These books will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist can supply Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

FIRST ANNUAL OUTING

Under Auspices of French American Naturalization Committee to be Held Sunday

The first annual outing under the auspices of the executive and naturalization committee of the French-Americans of this city will be held Sunday at Allendale in Braintree near Long Pond. The affair, it is expected, will be attended by about 200 people.

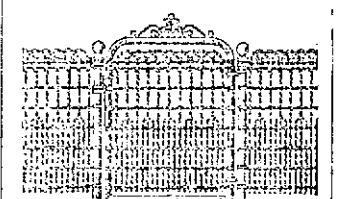

The affair will consist of a dinner at noon and the giving of refreshments in the afternoon. The proceeds of the outing will go toward defraying the expenses of the naturalization committee in purchasing stationery, card indexes and other material used in connection with its work.

Through the efforts of the committee between 200 and 300 French-American residents of Lowell have taken their first naturalization papers, while 40 have taken out their final papers, or in other words have become full-fledged citizens of the United States. The committee has a system by which it keeps account of all the first papers taken out by French-Americans and when the time comes for them to take out their final papers they will be notified by the said committee.

The members of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the outing are as follows: Executive committee: Arthur Lavoie, John R. Racette, Charles Gendreau, Ralph Monier and Philippe Chaput.

Naturalization committee: Maxime Lepine, David Parthenais, J. Z. Chouinard, Joseph Payette and Joseph Frechette.

Mr. Warren H. Simmons, with the J. R. Currier Co. of Prescott, has successfully passed the state board of examining. Mr. Simmons is a graduate of the New England Institute of Anatomy at Boston.

Civil Marriage of Kermit Roosevelt and Miss Belle Wyatt Willard

MISS BELLE WYATT WILLARD - KERMIT ROOSEVELT

MADRID, June 10.—The civil marriage of Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain, and Kermit Roosevelt, son of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, was performed today.

The ceremony was performed at the office and residence of the chief of police by the magistrate of the Buena Vista district.

Police headquarters are located in a populous section of the city and the passing of the wedding party in five automobiles attracted considerable attention.

MILITANCY CONDEMNED

Resolution That Government Stop Reign of Anarchy Adopted by Women's Liberal Federation

LONDON, June 10.—A resolution condemning militancy and demanding urgent action by the government to stop the reign of anarchy was adopted today by a large majority by the conference of the women's liberal federation, now in session here.

Lady Carlisle, the president, in moving the resolution, spoke of the "terrible scourge of violent methods which came right across their own constitutional methods and hindered the woman suffrage movement."

She said:

"The disastrous example of unchecked violence of these criminal wreckers is injuring the moral fibre of a considerable number of men and women in this country."

NATIONAL PROHIBITION

Definite Action on the Subject Expected to be Taken by the House Rules Committee

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The question of national prohibition again today loomed up on the congressional horizon. That the house will be forced to vote at an early date on a resolution providing for national prohibition through an amendment to the federal constitution was practically assured today.

This was generally conceded as a result of the expressed willingness of Majority Leader Underwood to have the question brought before the house for a test.

Definite action on the subject was expected to be taken by the house rules committee at a special meeting today. The committee had before it two propositions. One was a revised resolution introduced by Representative Hobson of Alabama, designed to meet opposition to his previous resolution on the ground that it violates state rights. The other was a resolution offered by Representative Cantrell of Kentucky proposing a special rule for consideration of the original Hobson resolution with a limit of ten hours' debate. It was expected that the committee would use the Cantrell resolution as a basis of action and amend it so as to apply to the revised resolution. It had generally been understood that prohibition was "dead" so far as this session was concerned.

At the last caucus of house democrats prohibition was one of the subjects which was not considered on the ground that it was not a party measure. This, however, did not mean that its consideration would be precluded after the program of proposed legislation had been disposed of. There are now no party measures pending before the house.

MAYOR CURLEY'S BROTHER

WAS YESTERDAY CONFIRMED AS COLLECTOR OF THE PORT OF BOSTON

BOSTON, June 10.—John J. Curley, whose appointment as collector of the city of Boston was confirmed yesterday by the civil service commission, was sworn in by City Clerk Donovan early this afternoon and will be prepared to take up the duties of the department tomorrow morning.

The new collector's appointment was sent to the civil service commission on June 1 and was approved June 3, which is considered unusually speedy action on the part of the civil service board. One reason assigned for it is the fact that tomorrow the bonds of Col. Bowdoin S. Parker as collector become inoperative and if he remained in office that day it would be necessary to have his bonds renewed.

It is expected Mayor Curley will accept the resignation of Collector Parker just before the close of business today and that his brother will be ready to assume the duties of collector at the opening of business tomorrow.

John J. Curley has been a deputy collector since 1910. The salary of collector is $3000 and that of deputy $1500.

The commission also confirmed Mayor Curley's appointment of John K. Koen to be a statistics trustee and the appointment of Edward W. McGlen as city registrar at $500 a year. Registrar McGlen has been connected with this department many years. Mr. Koen is a new appointee. The statistics board is unpaid.

When asked what changes he intended to make in the department, the incoming collector said that he was not yet able to tell.

CARD OF THANKS

The committee of arrangements of the Dramatic Society of Homers wishes to thank the large number of Lowell people who contributed so generously to their recent play for the benefit of the Greek school which took place last Sunday evening. The management feels certain that the financial success of the play was due in great measure to the kindness of the Lowell public. The net proceeds of the entertainment were $200.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" columns

Tickets for the same are going like hot cakes.

Following the custom of years gone by the program includes a variety exhibition, which promises to outshine anything ever produced by former pupils.

On the entertainment program are to be found such specialties as "The Merry Workers," an action selection showing the little fellows in operation at their different trades and professions, "The Tall Top Hat" club introducing our young aristocrats in a very pleasing selection, "The Little Chinese" in full celestial regalia, "Our Gallant

Jack Tars," and last but not least, Professor John O'Leary, who will lecture on "Realization." He will be introduced by John McMahon. And this is not all. Then comes the annual dramatic number, which this year happens to be a five-act drama entitled "Gladys Na Coppel," or the "Girl of the Horse."

The selection was very appropriate, since that "Isle of Isles" is about to realize the fulfilment of years of patient waiting and of ardent longing, home rule.

In order to become acquainted with some of the conditions in Ireland during the last ten years you have only to be present at this entertainment on either the evening of the 16th or the 17th, at the Playhouse.

The ability of the students of St. Patrick's school has never been questioned, not only in matters of daily school work but also in all public entertainments. They deserve the encouragement of all friends of their school, hence, be among those who will honor them by their presence at this grand entertainment. Matinee, Tuesday, June 16th, for the little ones. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, 16th and 17th, for the grown ups.

LOHMAN AND SUN MAN

Pitcher From Texas and Baseball Writer to Run Race at Ball Park Tomorrow

The fans who take in tomorrow's game at Spaulding park between Lowell and Haverhill will also witness a footrace as well, between "Texas" Lohman and The Sun's sporting writer. This is how the matched race came about:

In Saturday's baseball edition of The Sun a remark was made which rather rankled in the bosom of the big Texan. The remark in question had to do with the running ability of "Texas" and he could not pass it by.

When The Sun's representative at the ball park sauntered along Merrimack street shortly after the close of the game he was surprised, nay startled, to hear a rumbling, bull, bass voice addressing him from the doorway of the Hildreth building across the street. "Run like a weasel, huh," questioned the voice and the scribbler knew at once that it must be none other than Jimmy Gray's "Iron Man."

"Why you long-legged Yank," further yelled the irate Lohman, "in a fast man and you're trying to figure me out a right smart lesson on this running business. What do you mean by calling me a weasel?"

Well, we got around that situation after a little careful discussion, but the climax came yesterday. The scribbler at the ball park unfortunately forgot to mention Lohman's antipathy toward criticism as to his running ability and thereby got himself into a lot of trouble.

An extract from yesterday's baseball edition caught and fascinated the eye of "Texas." The Texan, who runs like Captain Frutty's street department auto which crushes rocks, surprised everyone, including himself, by stealing second and getting away with it.

This was the blow that Lohman father and the southerner "rared up" as it were.

This morning, quite unconscious of any wrong doing, the writer appeared at the baseball office bright and early and there sat the ball club with Lohman in the seat of the judiciary. He was raving about something when the scribbler first made his entrance and the minute he spotted The Sun man up he rose without preliminaries.

"Say, doggone your hide, somebody told me you're a footracer," was the way in which he began the conversation, as he advanced toward the nervous newspaper man. The latter, however, doubtful if he may have felt of the situation, thought that he could not back down and tried to laugh it off.

"I'm no sprinter any more," said he, but I could give you just about ten yards in a hundred and beat you in." But talking didn't go with the pitcher. "How much do you think about that?" he asked as he extracted a fistful of long green from his trousers pocket and a pinkish feeling made it known to the rest of the man's stomach. His bluff was called and there was nothing to do but either crawl into the waste basket or make a dash.

Choosing the lesser of two sad contingencies he slowly and painfully drew forth a $10 note and laid it in Jimmy Gray's waiting palm and the match was on.

As soon as the money was posted as a forfeit of good faith, "Texas" smiled for the first time this week. "I reckon I'll show these here newspaper fellows they can't ride me and get away with it," he announced as he began to pace the track.

Anyhow, the race is on, worse luck, and will be run off just previous to the game tomorrow. The ball player will run 100 yards and the scribbler 110 yards and the finish will be in front of the grand stand. Here's hoping it rains.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Harry Aubrey looked natural yesterday when he came to town with O'Connell and Mahoney of the Lawrence team. Harry tells us he is in the shape and expects to go along O. C. in the initial sack for the down river club. Here's hoping the ex-Lowell captain makes good with Pieper's men.

Pete Wacob's throwing arm was in shape yesterday as the speedy Porter found to his sorrow in the first inning after reaching first on Deo's slip. There are few catchers around the circuit who get Porter by anything but inches, but Wacob nailed him by more than a yard.

Frank McPherson, the Lowell boy who was with Lynn on the leaders' trip to Lowell, has been let go to the Perth Amboy club of the New York-New Jersey league. Flaherty used McPherson until Moulton got into shape and his batting proved the feature of more than one game in which Lynn came through with a win.

Pete Clemens has been dropped to second place in the Portland batting order and Burns has taken his place as lead-off man. Clemens is still hitting the ball hard, but Hugh Duffy evidently thinks Burns the better man to work his way to the first bag.

Tera, the Portland pitcher, was up three times yesterday in the Portland-Pittsburgh game and connected for a hit at each appearance. If Duffy's heater can hit consistently Hugh will hold on to him in any case. There's always room on any club for a player who can bat, and from all accounts of yesterday's contest Tera is some pitcher as well.

A party of Lynn rooters celebrated the victory after the game with a banquet at the Richardson hotel. Proprietor Hoban furnished them with an orchestra and they declared that there was some class to Lowell.

Well, we can't win them all. It was a good game all the way through. Although, of course, a few plays could have been pulled off with a little more finesse.

Porter, the Lynn outfielder, is faster than ever this season and is stinging the ball hard. With a trifle more experience Patsy Flaherty should have no great difficulty in disposing of this youngster.

That bout of "Billy" Burke's in the first inning which filled the stopping places was a beauty. After Bates finally gathered in the slow roller he seemed to be paralyzed. Burke had the throw beaten without a doubt, even had Bates made his peg at once. The Lowell captain came through with three hits for the day.

That first inning ended in a disappointment for the fans. Three men on and nobody down and not a run. Bates slow hook seemed to have the local batters in a bad way.

The roar that went up when Wacob posted his first foul over the fence was only strengthened when he pounded out another one in almost the same spot. With three on a strike on him which he thought questionable. The ex-Lowell second baseman was jeered at repeatedly when he stepped up to bat.

"Shorty" Deo had Bates up in the air in two out of our trip to the plate. The Lynn twirler sent up four bad ones on his first appearance without the semblance of a strike and in the seventh Shorty once more ambled to first without taking his bat from his shoulder.

The local team is laying down sacrifice bunts in fine style. Manager Gray has evidently taught the youngsters the art of dumping them in front of the plate. Kelly's sacrifice in the fourth which pushed around Matthews and Wacob was a beauty.

"Texas" Lohman stole second yesterday and crossed up Catcher Murphy in fine style. The Lynn backstop was so surprised when he saw the local leaver lumbering toward second that he held the ball in his hand a moment before shooting it down to Moulton. When the smoke cleared away there was Lohman occupying the pivot bag and wearing a broad smile.

The many friends of Bob Ganley of this city will be pleased to learn that he is making good as captain and manager of the Perth Amboy, N. J. team of the Atlantic league. In a letter to a friend in this city Bob states that the team is going along good and is a paying proposition. Ganley recently sold one of his outfielders, Mearns, to the New York Yankees and expects him to make good.

3000 BASE HITS

"Honus" Wagner Has Collected That Number in 17 Years

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—"Honus" Wagner, the veteran shortstop of the Pittsburgh National league team, yesterday made his 3000th hit in 17 years of major league baseball. It came in the ninth inning and was a two-bagger off Pitcher Mayer. Wagner subsequently scored Pittsburgh's only run of the game. He was applauded when he made the hit and again when he crossed the plate.

When the series opened here with Philadelphia last Friday, Wagner had 2993 hits to his credit. He failed to connect in the first two games, but made it 2999 Monday. Yesterday's hit came on his last turn at bat.

The only other player who is said to have made 3000 hits in his major league career was Adrian C. Anson, who made 3017 in 22 years.

NEW SHAMROCK WINS

FIRST RACING TEST OF SIR THOMAS LIPTON'S CHALLENGER FOR THE AMERICA CUP

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 10.—The first actual racing test between Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger for the America cup, and his older Shamrock took place yesterday over a 20-mile course. Shamrock IV finished 2 minutes and 15 seconds, elapsed time, ahead of the other, but the difference by no means represents the real measure of the challenger's superiority.

While the wind held true, favoring both yachts equally, Shamrock IV was much the speedier, but bearing the finish, when she had a long lead, the wind almost deserted her, while the older boat, still holding a good breeze, rapidly closed the gap.

LOCAL TRAINS CHANGE

SECRETARY MURPHY OF THE LOWELL BOARD OF TRADE GETS TWO TRAINS RESTORED

As a result of conferences and the exchange of communications in reference to the train service, Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade received today the following communication which in effect reinstates the 10:55 train to Boston and the 11 p. m. train from Boston. While several other improvements in the service were suggested, it was found impossible owing to the financial condition of the road, to increase the number of trains. The train service on some of the divisions of the system will be further curtailed.

Secretary Murphy made a special effort to have the 10:11 p. m. Sunday train reinstated, but was not successful.

The letter in regard to the 1 p. m. and the 10:55 train follows:
Boston, Mass., June 2, 1914.
John H. Murphy, Secretary, Board of Trade, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:
Your favor of the 5th instant.

The summer timetable, effective Monday, June 22, reinstates the 1 p. m. train from Boston, and also the 10:55 a. m. train which you mention, Lowell to Boston, although the leaving time will be 10:56. There will be no trains taken off which are running at the present time, and the usual Mountain trains will be run this year the same as last.

Yours truly,
J. D. Tyler,
General Superintendent.

AT THE SACRED HEART

Enthusiastic Meeting of General Committee in Charge of Annual Parish Picnic

The annual parish picnic of the Sacred Heart parish, which in past years has been very successful, will this year be held on July 4, afternoon and evening. For the past few years the picnics were held at the Knights of Columbus summer camp, but this year the affair will be spread within the last six weeks like a prairie fire and all the nationalists in Ireland shortly will be enrolled.

Roosevelt had "Bully Time" MADRID, June 10.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria were the hosts of Ex-President Roosevelt yesterday at a luncheon on their summer palace at La Granja, 40 miles from Madrid.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party, which included Ambassador Willard, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Kermit Roosevelt and his daughter, Miss Belle Willard, and Capt. Norton E. Wood, military attaché, motored to the palace. There were many titled persons also at the luncheon.

On his return, the colonel declared in his characteristic manner that he had had a "bully time."

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Bill to Abolish Party Enrollment—Labor Bill Amended—Other Matters of Interest

BOSTON, June 10.—After a debate of several hours the house of representatives voted yesterday to substitute for an adverse report of the committee on ways and means a bill to provide for abolition of party enrollment "as a prerequisite for signing nomination papers and voting at primary elections."

The bill which the house refused to reject is known as the McGraw bill. Today, however, the McGraw bill, so called, will be offered as a substitute.

There is not likely to be any opposition on the part of those who want the McGraw bill, as it was said to be understood that if the McGraw bill were substituted yesterday the McGraw bill would be offered today.

The McGraw bill provides that a voter may go to the polls on the day of a primary and instead of declaring his political preference from the ballot clerk the ballots of the three parties, which shall be fastened together, from these three the voter selects the ballot he wants and places the remaining two in a ballot box marked "blank ballot." He then proceeds to vote the ballot of the party he has chosen.

McGraw Bill's Provisions

The McGraw bill differs in one particular and it is this difference that is said to make it more favored. Instead of receiving three ballots, the voter is thrust a single ballot which contains a number ballot each in the party column, the voter must stick to one of the three columns, however, and cannot vote for a candidate in another party. In other words he selects his party's column and votes therein, otherwise his ballot is useless.

The debate started in the morning with Mr. McGraw opposing the way and means committee's report. Mr. Gerry also opposed the committee.

debate in the afternoon was opened by Mr. Hays of Boston, who said the question was: Do you believe in organized politics? He said it was an open secret that if the charter amendments are accepted by the voters of Boston this fall an effort will be made to recent party designations in the city elections. Without party designation, ward and city committees in this city today are a joke, he declared.

Party Platforms

Mr. Mahoney of Cambridge asked if the speaker would advise Democrats to vote in direct violation of their party platform. Mr. Hays replied that the national platform is violated by no less a personage than the president of the United States.

Mr. Dahlberg of Brockton said the Republicans are voting against this proposition because they believe it is the only way to hold together. "The independent vote is large and is growing," he said.

Mr. Beck of Chelsea said he believed thoroughly in party designation. Althogether, he thought, were necessary. Mr. Cross of Royalston said that in the country it is extremely inconvenient and sometimes expensive to re-enroll.

Mr. Kennard of Somerville said a study of the history of government shows that parties are necessary. Mr. Baker of Fall River referred to party designations as a "barbarous relic of political servitude."

Mr. Cox of Boston wondered if slavery would ever have been abolished had it not been for the fact that we had parties pledged to that purpose. He said Senator Lodge, although a lifelong friend of Theodore Roosevelt, refused to join the latter in the progressive party because the question of principles was involved.

Mr. Boston since party designation was abolished it has been made against class," asserted Mr. Cox. "It isn't a question of parties, it's a question of what we shall do in the way of perfecting our machinery of government. We have not to have men standing together and fighting for principles and issues."

Employment Office Bill
Mr. McGraw defended the bill to give control of free and private employment offices to the state board of labor and industry. He accused Mr. White of stating figures regarding the cost of the proposition to the state that were not correct.

"This is legislative and I am opposed to it," said Mr. Washburn. "The people should rule within reasonable limits."

"When we know men are robbed by employment agencies we should prevent it," said Mr. Beck. "I do not believe so strongly in home rule that I will let humanity go to the devil."

"I shall do my utmost to stop this unwarranted epidemic of interference with every sort of business," said Mr. Prime of Winchester.

By a rising vote, 67 to 56, the bill was passed to be engrossed.

In the Senate
In the state senate yesterday a resolution received from the house that $100,000 be appropriated by Massachusetts toward a memorial to Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry at Put-in-Bay, O., was voted to be expended whenever the auditor shall have positive assurance that $100,000 has been raised by other states for the memorial, but ordered to be a rising vote, but ordered to be a third reading, on a rollcall, 15 to 14. There was no debate.

To Satisfy Governor
On motion of Senator Doyle the bill to extend the powers of the state board of conciliation and arbitration was recalled from the governor and amended.

Bill to Abolish Party Enrollment—Labor Bill Amended—Other Matters of Interest

Bill to Abolish Party Enrollment—Labor Bill Amended—Other Matters of Interest

BOSTON, June 10.—After a debate of several hours the house of representatives voted yesterday to substitute for an adverse report of the committee on ways and means a bill to provide for abolition of party enrollment "as a prerequisite for signing nomination papers and voting at primary elections."

The bill which the house refused to reject is known as the McGraw bill. Today, however, the McGraw bill, so called, will be offered as a substitute.

There is not likely to be any opposition on the part of those who want the McGraw bill, as it was said to be understood that if the McGraw bill were substituted yesterday the McGraw bill would be offered today.

The McGraw bill provides that a voter may go to the polls on the day of a primary and instead of declaring his political preference from the ballot clerk the ballots of the three parties, which shall be fastened together, from these three the voter selects the ballot he wants and places the remaining two in a ballot box marked "blank ballot." He then proceeds to vote the ballot of the party he has chosen.

McGraw Bill's Provisions

The McGraw bill differs in one particular and it is this difference that is said to make it more favored. Instead of receiving three ballots, the voter is thrust a single ballot which contains a number ballot each in the party column, the voter must stick to one of the three columns, however, and cannot vote for a candidate in another party. In other words he selects his party's column and votes therein, otherwise his ballot is useless.

The debate started in the morning with Mr. McGraw opposing the way and means committee's report. Mr. Gerry also opposed the committee.

debate in the afternoon was opened by Mr. Hays of Boston, who said the question was: Do you believe in organized politics? He said it was an open secret that if the charter amendments are accepted by the voters of Boston this fall an effort will be made to recent party designations in the city elections. Without party designation, ward and city committees in this city today are a joke, he declared.

Party Platforms

Mr. Mahoney of Cambridge asked if the speaker would advise Democrats to vote in direct violation of their party platform. Mr. Hays replied that the national platform is violated by no less a personage than the president of the United States.

Mr. Dahlberg of Brockton said the Republicans are voting against this proposition because they believe it is the only way to hold together. "The independent vote is large and is growing," he said.

Mr. Beck of Chelsea said he believed thoroughly in party designation. Althogether, he thought, were necessary. Mr. Cross of Royalston said that in the country it is extremely inconvenient and sometimes expensive to re-enroll.

Mr. Kennard of Somerville said a study of the history of government shows that parties are necessary. Mr. Baker of Fall River referred to party designations as a "barbarous relic of political servitude."

Mr. Cox of Boston wondered if slavery would ever have been abolished had it not been for the fact that we had parties pledged to that purpose. He said Senator Lodge, although a lifelong friend of Theodore Roosevelt, refused to join the latter in the progressive party because the question of principles was involved.

Mr. Boston since party designation was abolished it has been made against class," asserted Mr. Cox. "It isn't a question of parties, it's a question of what we shall do in the way of perfecting our machinery of government. We have not to have men standing together and fighting for principles and issues."

Employment Office Bill
Mr. McGraw defended the bill to give control of free and private employment offices to the state board of labor and industry. He accused Mr. White of stating figures regarding the cost of the proposition to the state that were not correct.

"This is legislative and I am opposed to it," said Mr. Washburn. "The people should rule within reasonable limits."

U. S. WILL ASK FOR NOTHING BUT PEACE

Only Reparation From Mexico—
Say Huerta Cannot Name Successor—Would Mean Recognition—Mediation Conference is Threatened

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 10.—A dangerous obstruction to progress on a vital point of the mediation proceedings has arisen which again threatens failure for the negotiations. The United States has said to the mediators in unequivocal terms that it cannot consent to any method of transition of the executive power in the proposed new provisional government that can be construed as recognition of Huerta's administration. The mediators are insisting that General Huerta be permitted to make the appointment of the man agreed on here for provisional president. This, the American government absolutely refuses to accept, not only because it is committed against recognition of Huerta but because it has been informed by the constitutionalists that under no circumstances will they accept a peace plan which permits Huerta to exercise the constitutional function of naming his successor. On this point the mediators are blocked. Some of the principals have lost hope for a settlement but there is a growing confidence that the mediators will devise some method of bridging the difficulty rather than allow mediation to founder on the rocks.

Involvement in the question of method in choosing the new provisional president is an underlying principle which if not settled now will certainly provoke other disagreements before any protocol can be signed. The American government is firm in its belief that the party predominating in the greater part of Mexico should be given the controlling share in the new government; that the constitutionalists are moving forward to undoubted conquest in Mexico City and that to prevent such a contingency concessions should be made which will make their acceptance of the peace plan possible.

The United States believes that the constitutionalists with their large army form the real party which must be pacified and that the transfer of power must be to them in order to insure peace. The American delegates, it is understood, have conceded the principle that none of the foremost military chiefs of the constitutionalists or any who have been conspicuous in the Huerta regime should be provisional president, but they do not believe any progress can be made toward a settlement unless the man chosen is of constitutionalist sympathies, broad-minded enough to be acceptable to the Huerta party.

In the long conference yesterday between the mediators and the delegates no individuals were suggested by either party for provisional president, but the character of the man for the position was discussed to some extent. The mediators are understood to have contended that to transfer the power in Mexico City from Huerta directly to a constitutionalist without intervening steps in conformity with the Mexican constitution would be heaping indignity upon Huerta.

The American delegates, it is believed, took the position that questions of personal dignity should not be allowed to stand in the way of a peaceful settlement of the Mexican problem when the alternative is an invading army of constitutionalists who would temporarily displace Huerta and his supporters and sympathizers of power. The saving of the human class represented by Huerta from consequences that might follow a peaceful settlement of the Mexican problem is argued by the Americans to be of more importance than the form of succession which the United States and the constitutionalists could never approve.

Amnesty for the Huerta followers and a guarantee for their property rights has been undertaken by the Americans. Also the United States considers it has acted magnanimously in declining to ask for a war indemnity as a result of the occupation of Vera Cruz. It wants as reparation the establishment of a stable government.

Persons still holding dancette tickets are kindly requested to return the same or the money to Sister Mary Claire, St. John's hospital, before Sunday, June 14th.

LOWELL BOY
SENTENCED

Frank J. McMahon Pleaded Guilty to Charge of Assault and Attempted Robbery Committed on Andrew Brown—Given Five Years and Three Months in Concord Reformatory

CAMBRIDGE, June 10.—Frank J. McMahon, a Lowell boy of 16 years, was sentenced to five years and three months in Concord reformatory today upon his plea of guilty in the superior court to a charge of assault and attempted robbery committed on Andrew Brown, 18 years old, employed as a driver by a Lowell grocer. McMahon admitted striking Brown over the head with an iron bar while driving with him on a bill-collecting trip in Tewksbury on May 6.

REPORTED THAT 125
PERISHED IN STORM

Many Fishing Boats Lost in Storm Which Swept the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Chaleur Bay and Straits of Northumberland

CHATHAM, N. B., June 10.—Conflicting reports made it impossible today to determine definitely how many vessels had been lost in the storm which swept the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Chaleur Bay and the Straits of Northumberland last Friday.

One report received this forenoon placed the number of dead at 125. Articles from Carriquet said that 19 lives were known to have been lost, one vessel was missing and nothing was known of the fate of the crews of two vessels reported ashore on Pokesudie Island.

Capt. Samuel Brown of the schooner Warren P., which arrived here last night, said that when he left Shippegan on Sunday afternoon he heard that more than 100 persons had perished, but he believed this was a great exaggeration. Carriquet, Shippegan, and Lameque, the headquarters of the Bay of Chaleur fishing fleet are remote points and because of broken wire communication it has been impossible to get accurate accounts of the storm damage.

The vessels that suffered from the gale were small schooners. Nearly every craft was manned only by members of a single family with the father in command and three or four relatives composing the crew.

Plots of ground on the outskirts of Durango have been sold to poor men on payments of $1.00 a month for 100 months. These lands are now being cultivated.

PRICES, WILSON AND SEC. BRYAN DISCUSSES MEXICO

WASHINGTON, June 10.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan conferred on the Mexican situation today. As the secretary was leaving the White House he was asked whether the liner Antilla will maintain her arms and ammunition at Tampico.

"I cannot discuss the Antilla at this time," Mr. Bryan replied. When asked concerning John Lind's return to his home in Minnesota, Mr. Bryan said:

"Mr. Lind has merely gone home on business. He will return. He could be spared better at this time than hitherto and consequently has gone west on a short business trip."

SERIOUS DISAGREEMENT AT NIAGARA CONFERENCE

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 10.—Desperate effort was made today by the principals to the mediation conference to reconsider the differences of opinion that have arisen over the exact method by which the executive power in Mexico City shall be transferred to the individual to be agreed upon here for the provisional presidency of Mexico.

A serious disagreement has developed. Continued to page eight.

Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, is not quite sure yet as to the popularity of the road oil that he is using on some of the streets in Lowell. He received not less than five complaints by telephone this forenoon from as many women and they don't like the oil the least little bit. They trumpeted their feelings right out over the wire and Charlie told them not to get excited that they would like the oil later on. He assured them that they were not the only women who had kicked about the oil, but that a majority of those who had kicked had repented and had offered apologies. One woman declared that

RESOLUTE WON JUNE WEDDINGS

Defiance Made First Appearance in Trials But Dropped Out

ASSOCIATED PRESS BOAT, OFF SANDY HOOK, N. J., June 10.—(By wire.)—The New York Yacht club's sloop Resolute today won the fifth race of the series preliminary to the selection of the America's cup defender over a windward and leeward course, 23 miles in all, off Sandy Hook. She beat Alexander S. Cochran's Vanitie by about four minutes without taking advantage of her time allowance. The Defiance, owned by the tri-city syndicate made her first appearance in the cup preliminaries today but dropped out of the race on the first leg. Trouble with her untied rigging had caused her to lag hopelessly behind.

It was the third victory for Resolute. A big fleet of excursion boats followed the racers and thousands saw the contest, straining their gaze from points of vantage on the New Jersey shore.

The official times at the finish were: Resolute, 2:32:07; Vanitie 2:37:57.

BLACK HAND THREATS

TWO ICE HOUSES DESTROYED WHEN OWNER IGNORED THREATENING LETTERS

WESTERLY, R. I., June 10.—Following the alleged receipt by Howard Lindstrom of Crompton of Black Hand threats against him, his family and his property, two icehouses owned by him were destroyed early today by a fire of incendiary origin. The damage is estimated at $4000.

April 6th Lindstrom received a letter telling him the "Colorado black hand" must have $500 by April 12. He was directed to put the $500 at the foot of a big tree in the woods near his home.

Lindstrom with two employees went to the place at the time named. They claim they found there a man who apparently could not talk good English. He hurried from the place after they had questioned him.

EIGHT PERISHED IN NEW YORK TENEMENT FIRE

NEW YORK, June 10.—Eight persons, five of them women, were burned to death and eight more were badly injured in a fire that spread through an old style East Side tenement early today. More than a score others were less seriously hurt. The fire was discovered under the stairs shortly before four o'clock by a tenant who raised the alarm. The fire whirled through the tenement so rapidly that every escape was cut off before most of the tenants had been aroused.

SUPERIOR COURT SESSION POLICE COURT SESSION

At the opening of the civil session of the superior court this morning the case of Higgins vs. D. L. Page Co. went to trial before Justice Fox and the jury that was empaneled in the case yesterday afternoon. This is an action of tort brought about by Mrs. Julia Higgins, administratrix of the estate of her late son, James Higgins. The amount claimed is $10,000 and Lawyer J. J. O'Connor appears for the plaintiff, while Trull & Wier defend the interests of the Page Co.

The plaintiff in her declaration claims that on Sept. 15, 1913 James Higgins, her son was crossing Bridge street opposite West Sixth street, when he was struck by an automobile owned and controlled by the defendant company, and negligently and recklessly propelled, death resulting later.

The first witness called was Mrs. Higgins who said she is the mother of five children, whose ages are 13, 10, 7, 3 and 3 years. Her husband is dead and she resides at 55 Coburn street. She said on the morning of Sept. 15, 1913, three of her children, including James, left the home at about 8 o'clock, going to St. Michael's school. Later in the forenoon she received a telephone call and she went directly to St. John's hospital, where she saw her son James, lying on a bed and suffering terribly. The woman said she remained at the hospital until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and then returned again at 4 and left for her home at 5:30 o'clock, and her son died shortly afterward.

Dr. John J. Dacey, one of the physicians of St. John's hospital was then called and he testified to the boy being brought to the institution at about 8:15 a. m. The little fellow complained of pains in the side and an examination resulted in the finding of fractures of the third and fourth ribs on the left side and a puncture in the left lung, as well as other injuries. The doctor testified that the boy was conscious up to within a short time of his death and was suffering considerably.

In cross-examination Dr. Dacey said an autopsy was performed on the body after the boy's death because it was compulsory to do so. He said the boy's lungs showed signs of tuberculosis, the right lung being gone and the other being in a well advanced stage of tuberculosis. He said in his opinion the injuries to the boy were not sufficient to cause the death of a normal boy and also stated that the boy died from suffocation, this being caused by the puncture in the left lung.

Andrew Fleming, proprietor of the Sun-Fix in Middle street testified he was on his way to his shop on the morning of the accident. He said he saw the boy step in front of the automobile which was going at a rate of between 5 and 8 miles an hour. The boy was thrown to the ground, one of the wheels run over his head and another over his body. He said he believed the accident occurred between 7:45 and 7:50 a. m. The boy was later taken away in the auto.

Afternoon Session

William Nugent, aged 11 years, a companion of the said boy who was injured in the accident, was called to the witness stand at the afternoon session and he testified that the boys were on their way to school shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning and that several of them were playing chess. The lad stated that he saw the auto coming down Bridge street but did not hear the driver sound his horn or give any warning of his approach. He said the machine continued for several feet after it struck the boy. He went over to James while he lay on the street and saw the wheel marks on his body. Another lad, Thomas Clarke, nine years, said that he was playing with James Higgins shortly before the accident. About four boys were playing chess along West Sixth street, said James, and the little Higgins had run into Bridge street, where he was struck by the machine. The witness did not hear any noise to warn him that the automobile was passing. He did not stay on the spot long after the accident as it was nearly time for school to open.

George Groves, Thirteenth street, was on his way to high school on the morning of the accident, passing Sixth street about 8:17 o'clock. He testified that the automobile was going toward Merrimack square and he saw it strike a boy but did not know from which side of the street the boy came.

Francis Gilbride was also on his way to school at the time of the accident and saw James Higgins and Thomas Clark playing tag near the corner of West Sixth and Bridge streets. He said James ran from the sidewalk and was run over by a machine. Did not hear any signal of the machine's approach. The witness said that he heard Thomas Clarke shout that the machine was approaching but that the little Higgins boy did not hear him.

James Delgan and other witnesses corroborated the former witnesses testimony.

Verdict For Plaintiff

In the case of Higgins vs. Snow, an action for $1000 as the result of an automobile accident in Cambridge, which was given to the jury late yesterday afternoon, a verdict of $2000 was rendered for the plaintiff this afternoon. The case was tried before Judge Fox in the civil session of the superior court.

THROWN FROM EXPRESS WAGON

Thomas Battles, a driver for the American Express company, was thrown from his wagon in Moody street at Monument square shortly before the noon hour today and despite the fact that he fell headforemost he succeeded in holding the one rein which he had possession of and managed to stop his runaway steed. It seems that one of the shafts broke just around the corner in Dutton street and this allowed the wagon to run on the horse's heels. Mr. Battles lost one rein but managed to cling to the rein and the seat until the horse turned the corner and then he was thrown to the street, but he clung to the rein and stopped the horse. He was not injured.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Walter Scott Weeks and Miss Valaire are appearing to particular advantage this week in the presentation of the comedy attraction, "The Lottery Man" by the Merrimack Square theatre players. The piece has real merit to it and its interpretation by the cast is exceptionally good. There is a laugh for every minute of the two hours' entertainment and a good story besides. Those wishing to feel assured of a reserved seat should telephone in advance and have them held for them. Tel. 3953. Watch for next week's offering.

THE OWL THEATRE

Another batch of good photo-features has been booked for today and tomorrow at the Owl. "For Love of a Man" tells a sad story of a woman's misguided love for a man. It is well acted and beautifully photographed. Other good subjects have been secured. "Shorty's Trip to Mexico," a two-reeler, is an interesting film. "The Cheese of Police," with the leading stars, is a comedy. "The Fatal Dress Suits," acted by old comedy favorites will also captivate your attention. "Her Heritage" is another good picture secured to entertain the audience. The Owl theatre continues to please with its singing and the sliding roof always keeps the theatre cool and comfortable.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today's feature, "Regeneration," a two-part drama by the Kalein company tells a story of a drunkard's early years and reforms and falls in love with a girl, but in the leading part, and he breaks her, but in a dream realizes his position and returns and makes amends. This is a very strong story and is well worth seeing. Thursday's feature, "The Acid Test," features the great Vitaphone favorite, Maurice Costello, who as the husband of a wife has been killed, tries to prove her worth by sticking through thick and thin, is at his best.

MOVEMENT IRREGULAR

AT OPENING—STEEL SHARES NOT

AFFECTED BY REPORT—MARKET

CLOSED EASY

NEW YORK, June 10.—Speculation was held down to minimum proportions when the stock market opened today. There was nothing in the way of new information to guide traders and few changes of consequence were effected in quotations. Movements were irregular. Slight gains were in the majority but a number of active shares, including Steel, Reading or S. P. were at or below yesterday's level. Such changes as occurred toward middle were of an irregular character, the leaders for the most part moving within minor fractions, although Reading reflected further pressure, as did also New York Central. American Smelting rose a point and Distillers 1-1-2, with heaviness in some other specialties. The traction were not favorably affected by declaration of an extra five per cent. dividend for Interborough Rapid Transit, whose preferred stock fell back a point. Another gold encasement of $2,000,000 for Europe was announced, making the aggregate of that movement thus far this year close to $50,000,000.

Steel shares were not affected by the decrease of 278,000 tons shown in the United States. Steel monthly statement which was in line with expectations. Greater activity was reported in certain branches of the steel trade. Additional encouraging state crops forecasts were received and cable advices told of a turn for the better in foreign political and financial conditions. The market made no response to these bullish indications holding victims unchanged during the early afternoon.

The market closed steady. Narrow and irregular movements governed today's speculation. Prices ultimately dropped because of the weakness of social issues and subsidence of bullish operations among industrialists. Selling of Montgomery Ward and Lehigh caused prices to sag more generally toward the end.

NORTH SULLIVAN, Me., June 10.—After a lovers' quarrel during which he was told she would not marry him, Vernon Duckham, 26, left the home of a North Sullivan girl last night, declaring that he would kill himself. His threat was not taken seriously. When a shot was heard outside it was supposed it was a bluff and no investigation was made. Duckham's body was found outside the house this morning. Officials decided he took his own life.

FLEE FOR THEIR LIVES

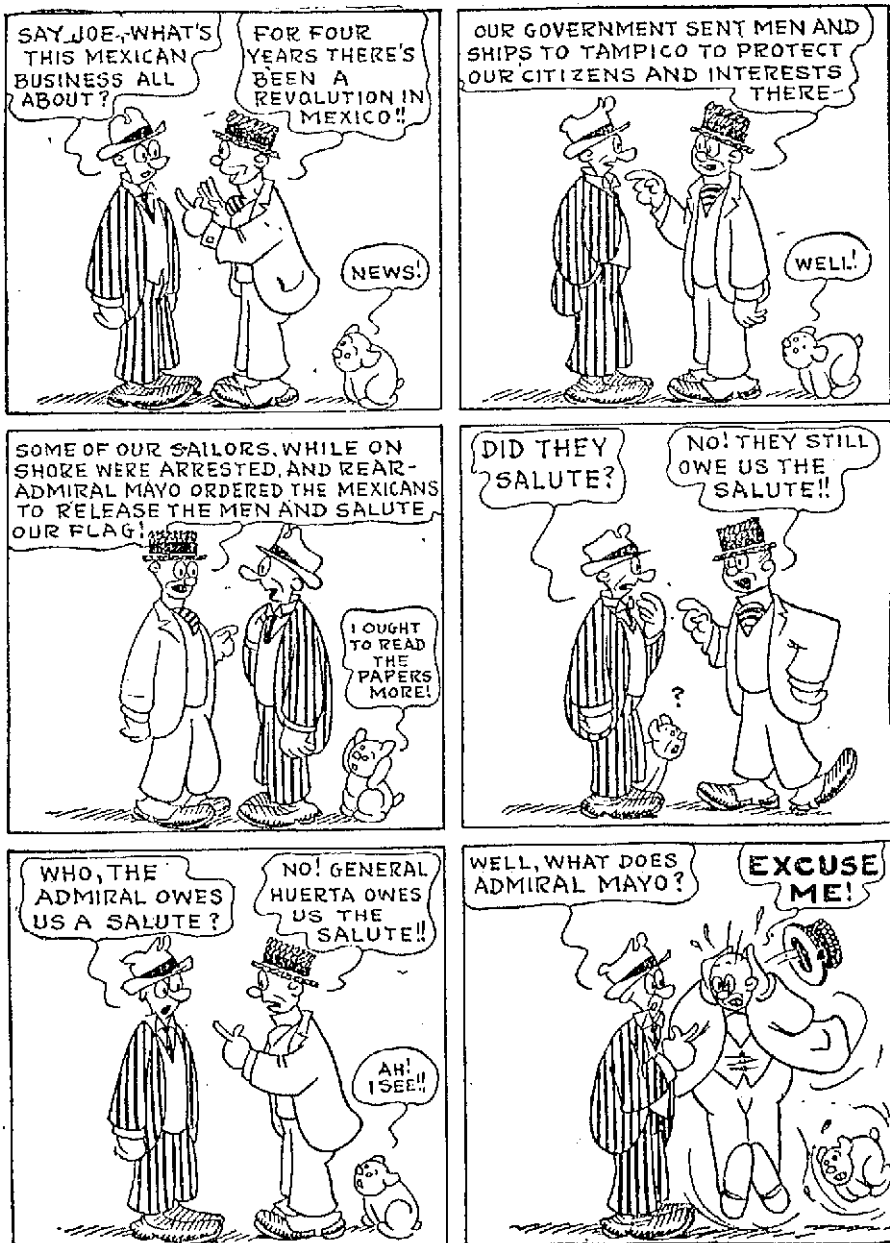

GOVERNMENT LEVEES BROKE AND FLOODS SWEEP THROUGH COLORADO VILLAGES

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 10.—The government levees protecting the Mojave reservation from the Colorado river broke yesterday, according to a despatch from the Needles. The floods swept through the village and the Indians were forced to flee for their lives. Livestock left behind was drowned. The crest of the flood apparently has passed Needles but has made the situation there critical, as it caused the current to shift and eat into the banks. The river last night stood at 22 feet at Topock, the highest stage ever recorded there. At Beal on the Santa Fe river six miles below Needles the river was level with the top of the dike and was flooding houses.

"HURRAH FOR ANARCHY"

Shouted Strike Rioters After Big Clash With Police and Troops in Rome—Other Riots

ROME, June 10.—Another serious riot in connection with the general strike of Italian workmen occurred near the labor exchange today. A body of strikers trying to reach the center of the city came into contact with strong forces of police and troops, who broke up the parade. Some of the more determined strikers endeavored to erect a barricade while others rushed to the roofs of houses and pelted the soldiers and policemen with tiles, shouting "Hurrah for anarchy!" Detachments of infantry today occupied the main strategic positions of Rome and troops of cavalry patrolled the principal thoroughfares. Over 200 arrests were made today. So far the extreme party among the workmen has been unable to bring about a general strike on the railroads. At Fabriano, however, a mob took possession of the unprotected railroad station, removed the trucks and cut all the telegraph and telephone wires while similar outrages were committed at Imola.

STRIKERS PELTED PAVING BLOCKS AT SOLDIERS AT MILAN, ITALY

MILAN, Italy, June 10.—An encounter between the troops and riotous strikers here today resulted in the wounding of a number of soldiers and workmen. The strikers used the paving stones of the Cathedral square as missiles. Many of the men were arrested.

GUARD STRIKEBREAKERS

PITTSBURGH, June 10.—Three carloads of strikebreakers were taken into the Westinghouse Electric company's plant here early today. They were in charge of 50 armed guards. Strikers, informed of the new move were kept well under control by their leaders. There was an orderly march to Wilmerding and Swissvale, where the shops of the Westinghouse Airbrake company and the Union Switch & Signal Co. are located.

DUMP FIRE IN STATE STREET
A telephone alarm was sent in at 1:37 o'clock this afternoon and hose 11 was sent out to investigate what proved to be a dump fire on State street. The firemen soon had the blaze under control before any damage was done to adjacent property.

MISS WILSON'S DENIAL

THAT SHE IS ENGAGED SETTLES PERSISTENT RUMOR AT WASHINGTON

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Miss Margaret Wilson, the only unmarried daughter of President Wilson, has no immediate intention to change her lot of single-blessedness.

Rumors that have been floating around Washington that she was engaged to Dr. T. Cary Grayson, the president's aide, were denied with positiveness by Miss Wilson herself when seen in this city shortly after visiting the office of her physician. "There is absolutely no truth in a report that I am engaged to anyone," she said, "that is merely baseless gossip."

WIND HELD UP HARVARD CREW
RED TOP, Conn., June 10.—A strong southwest wind and a choppy sea curtailed the practice of the Harvard crew today. The forenoon work for all of the boats consisted simply of a half mile row down stream and return. No attempt at speed was made.

NO PRACTICE FOR YALE CREW
GALES FERRY, Conn., June 10.—Conditions on the course today were so bad the combination of high wind and strong tide kicking up a nasty sea that coaches did not allow the Yale crew to go out for the usual morning row. The squad, freshmen and varsity men, together with the coaches went on a cross country hike covering between three and four miles.

she wouldn't offer any apologies if the oil should turn to gold. "The trouble about the oil," said Mr. Morse, "is that the children go out and play in it while it is yet wet and of course they carry it into the house on their shoes. Some women will insist upon standing in a pool of oil waiting for a car while there are dry spots all around her."

But all of the women in Lowell are not complaining about the oil. After having heard from the five rather irate women over the phone today Mr. Morse had a caller in the person of a rather mild and timid woman who looked up into Charlie's face and told him the oil was "just too sweet for anything." The woman, however, was not for only one kicking about the oil, for it was stated today that street car conductors on certain lines are up in arms against what they term a "demon nuisance." Men, women and children, they say, track the oil into the cars and that both the odor and the oil remain for days.

Gorham Street Congestion

Mr. Morse is up against it a little bit in Gorham street, too, but the oil hasn't anything to do with the Gorham street trouble. The paving work is going on between Davis square and Moore street and the street is very narrow at certain points. "The street railway company is putting in another crossover opposite the Globe hotel and this, of course, takes up considerable room. Mr. Morse says, however, that he hasn't any apologies to offer for the congestion in Gorham street. "If there was any way of widening the street I would gladly do so," said the alderman, "but as a matter of fact the delay or inconvenience there is not so very great and we will get through with the work as quickly as possible."

Fish and Game Commissioner

If you are sound physically, good marksman, good eyesight, good walker and runner; fearless and able to stand fatigue and exposure and a good judge of birds and quadrupeds, fish, and the various song and insectivorous birds, you are in line for a job as deputy fish and game commissioner, but unless you have these and other qualifications that would admit you to the primitive man's class, row "way out in the pond while the examination is going on, for a competitive examination is to be held pretty soon and the fellow who grabs it will have an earning capacity of at least $60 a month. Here is a copy of the notice of the examination as received at the city clerk's office today:

A competitive examination will be held on July 1, 1914, to fill several vacancies in the positions of deputy fish and game commissioners under the commission on fisheries and game. The initial salary is $60 a month, and the maximum is $100 a month. Men applying for the above should be sound physically, good marksmen, and have good eyesight, be able to distinguish the various colors, be good walkers and runners, be fearless and able to stand fatigue and exposure. The should be fairly familiar with the game birds and quadrupeds, and the various song and insectivorous birds protected by law in this state. They should know the essential provisions of the fish and game laws. Their experience, to be rated as valuable, must include gunning and fishing, or constable and police experience, preferably both.

The examination will consist of a sworn statement of training and experience, handwriting, an accuracy test, report writing, arithmetic, and practical questions on the fish and game laws, on fresh and salt water fish, on game birds and quadrupeds, and on other animals protected by law. In addition to the above, candidates will be given a thorough test in identifying specimens of fish and specimen birds.

Successful candidates will be subjected to a physical examination which will include a test of the eyes for sight and for color blindness. Only male citizens of the United States, between the ages of 20 and 45 who have been residents of Massachusetts for the past year, have the right to apply. Men desiring to undergo this examination may secure application blanks by applying, in person or by letter, at the office of the civil service commission, room 152, State House, Boston. Applications may be filed at any time, but in order that applicants may be entitled to appear at this examination, the blanks should be filled out and placed on file in the office of this commission on or before June 24th, 1914, at 5 p. m.

CITY HALL NOTES

Bids on two cars of oats, one for the street department and the other for the health department, were opened in purchasing agent's office today. The bids were as follows: J. B. Cover, 51 cents; Joseph Mullin, 50 cents; Wilder and Witten 50 cents and Paul Vignat 50 cents. Mr. Vignat did not send any sample and his bid, it was stated, will not be considered.

When Agent Walker, representing the Lawrence Mfg. Co., offered a strip of land in Aiken street for playground purposes on condition that the tax would be abated, everybody thought, at first blush, that the offer was a very promising one, but when it became known that the tax would amount this year to about $700 it didn't look so good, and there's a bare possibility that the park commission will decide to use the Greenhalge school grounds instead, though the school grounds are not as centrally located.

John W. Kernan, superintendent of parks, is arranging for a bubble fountain at Shedd park. It will be installed in a day or two.

In reply to a question, Purchasing Agent Foye said today that he would purchase a Knay machine only on the vote of the municipal council.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John H. McGuiggin and Miss Elizabeth Kinney were married Monday at a nuptial mass celebrated at the Sacred Heart church by Rev. Fr. Wood, O. M. I. The couple were attended by Miss Sarah McGuiggin, a sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. George Kinney, a brother of the bride. The bride wore a blue silk gown and a picture hat, while the bridegroom was attired in blue silk. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. McGuiggin left on a honeymoon trip to Boston, Providence and Woonsocket, R. Civil Marriage of Kermit Roosevelt and Miss Belle Wyatt Willard

MISS BELLE WYATT WILLARD - KERMIT ROOSEVELT

MADRID, June 10.—The civil marriage of Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain, and Kermit Roosevelt, son of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, was performed today.

The ceremony was performed at the office and residence of the chief of police by the magistrate of the Buena Vista district.

Police headquarters are located in a populous section of the city and the pasting of the wedding party in five automobiles attracted considerable attention.

Moving picture men were out in strong force and in the vicinity of the building a crowd gathered, which was kept from approaching too close by about a dozen detectives and policemen.

Colonel Roosevelt and Ambassador Willard were among those present at the ceremony and afterward the wedding party left the city to pass the afternoon at Toledo.

CARD OF THANKS

The committee of arrangements of the Dramatic Society of Homers wishes to thank the large number of Lowell people who contributed so generously to their recent play for the benefit of the Greek school which took place last Sunday evening. The management feels certain that the financial success of the play was due in great measure to the kindness of the Lowell public. The net proceeds of the entertainment were $100.

MILITANCY CONDEMNED

Resolution That Government Stop Reign of Anarchy Adopted by Women's Liberal Federation

LONDON, June 10.—A resolution strongly condemning militancy and demanding urgent action by the government to stop the reign of anarchy was adopted today by a large majority by the conference of the women's liberal federation, now in session here.

Lady Carlisle, the president in moving the resolution, spoke of the "terrible scourge of violent methods which came right across their own constitutional methods and hindered the woman suffrage movement."

She said: "The disastrous example of unchecked violence of these criminal wreckers is injuring the moral fibre of a considerable number of men and women in this country."

NATIONAL PROHIBITION

Definite Action on the Subject Expected to be Taken by the House Rules Committee

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The question of national prohibition again today loomed up on the congressional horizon. That the house will be forced to vote at an early date on a resolution providing for national prohibition through an amendment to the federal constitution was practically assured today. This was generally conceded as a result of the expressed willingness of Majority Leader Underwood to have this question brought before the house for a test.

Definite action on the subject was expected to be taken by the house rules committee at a special meeting today. The committee had before it two propositions. One was a revised resolution introduced by Representative Hobson of Alabama, designed to meet opposition to his previous resolution on the ground that it violates state rights. The other was a resolution offered by Representative Cantrill of Kentucky proposing a special rule for consideration of the original Hobson resolution with a limit of ten hours' debate. It was expected that the committee would use the Cantrill resolution as a basis of action and so far as to apply to the revised resolution. It had generally been understood that prohibition was "dead" at this session was concerned. At the last caucus of house democrats prohibition was one of the subjects which was not considered on the ground that it was not a party measure. This, however, did not mean that its consideration would be precluded after the program of proposed legislation had been disposed of. There are now no party measures pending before the house.

MAYOR CURLEY'S BROTHER

WAS YESTERDAY CONFIRMED AS COLLECTOR OF THE PORT OF BOSTON

BOSTON, June 10.—John J. Curley, whose appointment as collector of the city of Boston was confirmed yesterday by the civil service commission, was sworn in by City Clerk Donovan early this afternoon and will be prepared to take up the duties of the department tomorrow morning.

The new collector's appointment was sent to the civil service commission June 1 and was approved June 9, which is considered unusually speedy action on the part of the civil service board. One reason assigned for it is the fact that tomorrow the hands of Col. Bowdoin S. Parker as collector become imperative and if he remained in office that day it would be necessary to have his bonds renewed.

It is expected Mayor Curley will accept the resignation of Collector Parker just before the close of business today and that his brother will be ready to assume the duties of collector at the opening of business tomorrow.

John J. Curley has been a deputy collector since 1910. The salary of collector is $5000 and that of deputy $1500.

The commission also confirmed Mayor Curley's appointment of John K. Curley to be a statistics trustee and the appointment of Edward W. McGlen as city registrar at $5000 a year. Registrar McGlen has been connected with this department many years. Mr. Kora is a new appointee. The statistics board is unpaid.

When asked what changes he intended to make in the department, the incoming collector said that he was not yet able to tell.

tickets for the same are going like hot cakes.

Following the custom of years gone by the program includes a variety exhibition, which promises to outline anything ever produced by former pupils.

On the entertainment program are to be found such specialties as "The Merry Workers," an action selection showing the little fellows in operation at their different trades and professions, "The Tall Top Hat" club introducing our young aristocrats in a very pleasing selection, "The Little Chinese" in full celestial regalia, "Our Gallant

Jack Tars," and last but not least, Professor John O'Leary, who will lecture on "Realization." He will be introduced by John McMahon. And this is not all. Then comes the annual dramatic number, which this year happens to be a five-act drama entitled "Glorious Na Coppel," or the "Glen of the Horse." The selection was very appropriate, since that "Glen of the Horse" is about to realize the fulfillment of years of patient waiting and of ardent longing, home rule.

In order to become acquainted with some of the conditions in Ireland during the last ten years you have only to be present at this entertainment on either the evening of the 15th or the 17th, at the Playhouse.

The ability of the students of St. Patrick's school has never been questioned, not only in matters of daily school work but also in all public entertainments. They deserve the encouragement of all friends of their school, hence, be among those who will honor them by their presence at this grand entertainment. LOHMAN AND SUN MAN

Pitcher From Texas and Baseball Writer to Run Race at Ball Park Tomorrow

The fans who take in tomorrow's game at Spaulding park between Lowell and Haverhill will also witness a footrace as well, between "Texas" Lohman and The Sun's sporting writer. This is how the matched race came about:

In Saturday's baseball edition of The Sun a remark was made which rather rankled in the bosom of the big Texas heaver. The remark in question had to do with the running ability of "Texas" and he could not pass it by.

When The Sun's representative at the ball park sauntered along Merrimack street shortly after the close of the game he was surprised, nay startled, to hear a rumbling, bull, bass voice addressing him from the doorway of the Hibernian building across the street. "Run like a weasel, huh?" questioned the voice and the scribble lines at once that it must be none other than Jimmy Gray's "Iron man."

"Why you long-legged Yankee," further yelled the irate Lohman, "I'm a fast man and you're trying to figure me out a right smart lemon on this rumble business. What do you mean by calling me a weasel?"

Well, we got around that situation after a little careful discussion, but the climax came yesterday. The scribble at the ball park unfortunately forgot to mention Lohman's antipathy toward criticism as to his running ability and thereby got himself into a lot of trouble.

An extract from yesterday's baseball edition caught and fascinated the eye of "Texas." The Texan, who runs like Captain Prentiss's street department auto which creates rocks, surprised everyone, including himself, by stealing second and getting away with it.

This was the blow that kindled father and the southern "raced up" as it were.

This morning, quite unconscious of any wrong doing, the writer appeared at the baseball office bright and early and there sat the ball club with Lohman in the seat of the judiciary. He was saying about something when the minute he spotted The Sun man up he rose without preliminaries.

"Say, doggone your hide, somebody told me you're a footracer," was the way in which he began the conversation, as he advanced toward the nervous newspaper man. The latter, however, thought that he could not back down and tried to laugh it off. "I'm no sprinter any more," said he, but I could give you just about ten yards in a hundred and beat you in ten."

But talking didn't go with the pitcher. "How much do you think about that?" he asked as he extracted a fistful of long green from his trousers pocket and a sinking feeling made it self known in the pit of The Sun man's stomach. His bluff was called and there was nothing to do but either crawl into the waste basket or make a dash.

Choosing the lesser of two and considering he slowly and painfully drew forth a $10 note and laid it in Jimmy Gray's waiting palm and the match was on.

As soon as the money was posted as a forfeit of good faith, "Texas" snuffed for the first time this week. "I reckon I'll show these here newspaper fellows they can't ride me and get away with it," he announced as he beamed upon his teammates.

Anyhow, the race is on, worse luck, and will be run off just previous to the game tomorrow. The ball player will run 100 yards and the scribble 110 yards and the finish will be in front of the grand stand. Here's hoping it rains.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Harry Aubrey looked natural yesterday when he came to town with O'Connell and McPherson. The Lawrence team, Harry tells us, is in dire straits and expects to go along O. K. on the initial sack for the down river club. Here's hoping the ex-Lowell captain makes good with McPherson's men.

Pete Waco's throwing arm was so great shape yesterday as the speedy Porter found to his sorrow in the timing after reaching first on Dees' slip. There are few catchers around the circuit who get Porter by anything but inches, but Waco nailed him by more than a yard.

Frank McPherson, the Lowell boy who was with Lynn on the leaders' last trip to Lowell, has been let to the Perth Amboy club of the New York-New Jersey league. Flaherty used McPherson's hitting record as a feature of more than one game in which Lynn came through with a win.

Pete Clemens has been dropped to second place in the Portland batting order and Burns has taken his place as a lead-off man. Clemens is still hitting the ball hard, but Hugh Duffy evidently thinks Burns the better man to work his way to the first bag.

Tuero, the Portland pitcher, was up three times yesterday in the Portland-Fitchburg game and connected for a hit at each appearance. If Duffy's heavier can hit consistently Hugh will hold on to him in any case. There's always room on any club for a player who can bat, and from all accounts of yesterday's contest Tuero is some pitcher as well.

A party of Lynn rooters celebrated the victory after the game with a banquet at the Richardson hotel. Proprietor Hobson furnished them with an orchestra and they declared that there was some class to Lowell.

Well, we can't win them all. It was good game all the way through, although, of course, a few plays could have been pulled off with a little more finesse.

Porter, the Lynn outfielder, is faster than ever this season and is slinging the ball hard. With a little more experience Rags Flaherty should have a good difficulty in disposing of this youngster.

That punt of "Billy" Burke's in the first inning which filled the stopping places was a beauty. After Bates finally gathered in the slow roller he seemed to be paralyzed. "Burke had the three balls without a doubt, even had Bates made his best at once. The Lowell captain came through with three hits for the day.

That first inning ended in a disappointment to the fans. Three men on and nobody down and the Lowell batters in a bad way.

The rear that went up when Waco punted his first foul over the fence was only strengthened when he pounded out another one almost the same spot. With three strikes and two balls called on him, "Pete" fouled no less than five times before closing the inning with a grounder to J. Smith.

The crowd did not take kindly to Moulton's umpiring, however, when Mike Doherty called a strike on him which he thought questionable. The ex-Lowell second baseman was jeered at repeatedly when he stepped up to bat.

"Shorty" Dees had Bates up in the air in two out of his four tries to the plate. The Lynn twirler sent up four bad ones on his first appearance without the semblance of a strike and in the seventh Shorty once more ambled to first without taking his bat from his shoulder.

The local team is laying down sacrifice bunts in fine style. Manager Gray has evidently taught the youngsters the art of dumping them in front of the plate. Kelly's sacrifice in the fourth which pushed around Mathews and Waco was a beauty.

"Texas" Lohman stole second yesterday and crossed up Catcher Murphy in fine style. The Lynn backstop was so surprised when he saw the local heaver lumbering toward second that he held the ball in his hand a moment before shooting it down to Moulton. When the smoke cleared away there was Lohman occupying the pivot bag and wearing a broad smile.

The many friends of Bob Ganley of this city will be pleased to learn that he is making good as captain and manager of the Perth Amboy, N. J. team of the Atlantic league. In a letter to a friend in this city Bob states that the team is going along good and is a paying proposition. Ganley recently did one of his outfielders, Meara, to the Americans and expects him to make good.

3000 BASE HITS

"Honus" Wagner Has Collected That Number in 17 Years

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—"Honus" Wagner, the veteran shortstop of the Pittsburgh National league team, yesterday made his 3000th hit in 17 years of major league baseball. It came in the ninth inning and was a two-bagger off Pitcher Mayer. Wagner subsequently scored Pittsburgh's only run of the game. He was applauded when he made the hit and again when he crossed the plate.

When the series opened here with Philadelphia last Friday, Wagner had 2935 hits to his credit. He failed to connect in the first two games, but made it 2939 Monday. Yesterday's hit came on his last turn at bat.

The only other player who is said to have made 3000 hits in his major league career was Adrian C. Anson, who made 3047 in 22 years.

NEW SHAMROCK WINS

FIRST RACING TEST OF SIR THOMAS LIPTON'S CHALLENGER FOR THE AMERICA CUP

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 10.—The first actual racing test between Shamrock IV, Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the America cup, and his older Shamrock took place yesterday over a 30-mile course. Shamrock IV finished 2 minutes and 15 seconds, elapsed time, ahead of the other, but the difference by no means represents the full measure of the challenger's superiority.

While the wind held true, favoring both yachts equally, Shamrock IV was much the speedier, but nearing the finish, when she had a long lead, the wind almost deserted her, while the older boat, still holding a good breeze, rapidly closed the gap.

LOCAL TRAINS CHANGE

SECRETARY MURPHY OF THE LOWELL BOARD OF TRADE CUTS TWO TRAINS RESTORED

As a result of conferences and the exchange of communications in reference to the train service, Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade received today the following communication which in effect reinstates the 10:53 train from Boston and the 11:00 m. train from Lowell. While several other improvements in the service were suggested, it was found impossible owing to the financial condition of the road, to increase the number of trains. The train service on some of the divisions of the system will be further curtailed.

Secretary Murphy made a special effort to have the 10:14 p. m. Sunday train reinstated, but was not successful.

The letter in regard to the I. p. m. and the 10:53 train follows:
Boston, Mass., June 9, 1914.
John H. Murphy, Secretary, Board of Trade, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir:
Your favor of the 8th instant.

"The summer timetable, effective Monday, June 22, reinstates the 10:14 p. m. train from Boston, and also the 10:53 a. m. train which you mention, Lowell to Boston, although the leaving time will be 10:55. There will be no trains taken off which are running at the present time, and the usual mountain trains will be run this year the same as last.

Yours truly,
J. D. Tyler,
General Superintendent.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Bill to Abolish Party Enrollment—Labor Bill Amended—Other Matters of Interest

BOSTON, June 10.—After a debate of several hours the house of representatives voted yesterday to substitute for an adverse report of the committee on ways and means a bill to provide for abolition of party enrollment "as a prerequisite for signing nomination papers and voting at primary elections."

Democratic and progressive members labored valiantly to get the measure over in spite of the committee's recommendation and won by a vote of 11 to 77.

The bill which the house refused to reject is known as the McMurrow bill. Today, however, the McGrath bill, so called, will be offered as a substitute. There is not likely to be any opposition on the part of those who urged the McMurrow bill, as it was said to be understood that if the McGrath bill were substituted yesterday the McGrath bill would be offered today.

The McGrath bill provides that a voter may go to the polls on the day of a primary and instead of declaring his political receive from the ballot clerk the ballot of the three parties, which shall be fastened together. From these three the voter selects the one he wants and places the remaining two in a ballot box marked "blank ballot." He then proceeds to vote the ballot of the party he has chosen.

McGrath bill's provisions
The McGrath bill differs in one particular from the McMurrow bill. Instead of receiving three ballots, the voter without stating his party, receives a single ballot with the party candidates printed thereon "in party columns." The voter must select to one of the three columns, however, and cannot vote for a candidate in another party. In other words, he selects his party's column and votes therein, otherwise his ballot is void.

The debate started in the morning with Mr. McMurrow opposing the ways and means committee's report. Mr. Garney also opposed the committee. Debate in the afternoon was opened by Mr. Hayes of Boston, who said the question was: Do you think it is proper that the charter amendments are accepted by the voters of Boston after an effort will be made to secure party designations in the city elections. Without party designation, ward and city committees in this city today are a joke, he declared.

To Satisfy Governor
On motion of Senator Doyle the bill to extend the powers of the state board of conciliation and arbitration was recalled from the governor and immediately ed to meet the governor's objections as to taking power from local boards of arbitration and his objections as to the provisions for membership of such boards.

The governor found that the bill as it had been sent to him for approval would take from local boards of arbitration the power to summon witnesses and administer oaths which they now have.

Furthermore, the governor discovered that the bill he was asked to sign provided that if each side in a labor controversy agreed upon an arbitrator and then the two so chosen were unable to agree on the choice of a third, the state board would have authority to step in and name the third member. In the opinion of the governor this would destroy the whole purpose of the local board of arbitration.

These reports of the committee on ways and means were made.

Ought to pass, amended bill to appropriate $100,000 for improvement of the Taunton river when the federal government shall join in the work, but striking out the words "to a depth of not less than 18 feet at mean low water and to a width of not less than 100 feet."

MEXICAN SITUATION

oped between the mediators and the American delegates on this point, but the fact of reaching the common ground. The details of the composition of the new government are being worked out in the daily conferences. The aim now is to obtain for provisional president a man of moderate views, intelligent, capable and broad enough to give fair consideration to the legitimate interests of the Huertista party. Of the four cabinet portfolios it has been practically agreed that the ministry of foreign relations shall go to a man of the Huertista party but not objectionable personally to the constitutionalists; the ministry of finance to an independent man having the trust and confidence of the constitutionalists but to be suggested by the Huertista party; and the ministry of government (interior administration) shall be of constitutionalist lineage but one likely to be fair in his adjustment of the various provisional governments and state political situations. This would give the constitutionalists practically three out of five men in sympathy with their cause. In trying to find a dignified way for the retirement of Huerta the mediators were impressed with the method suggested by the Mexican delegates of permitting him actually to appoint a minister of foreign affairs as a new provisional president. Also the mediators have in mind the fact that the European powers have recognized Huerta as the constitutional president and they wish to see his dignity retained before these nations. The Mexican delegation, it is understood, will not insist upon this method of selection if the American delegates and it impossible to sanction it. One way of bridging the difficulty which has been suggested is to have the transition effected without any previous agreement with the American government so as to save it embarrassment. Recognition then might be extended when the provisional president had been installed in power and had been formally accepted by the constitutionalists. Such ceremony would constitute a popular demonstration that would justify the American government in the view of many here in extending recognition on the broad ground that the national will in effect had been expressed.

Difficult Situation

The American delegates are in a difficult situation in arguing this point for while they do not wish to agree to anything that even a tacit recognition of General Huerta as the constitutional ruler of Mexico they are in the dark as to what the constitutionalists will or will not accept.

The plan which has been virtually agreed upon not only by the mediators and the American delegates, but by the Huertista delegates as well, contemplates giving to a majority share in the new provisional government. In effect it recognizes the military achievement of the revolution by giving the constitutionalist party a controlling voice in the government, which would mean possession of the electoral machinery.

They will have it in their power to ensure the holding of a fair election

NEW INFIELDER

Lowell Team Finally Secures Second Baseman—With Club in 1910

A new second sacker arrived at last in town today, although he was not one of those whom Manager Gray thought would complete the personnel of the Lowell infield. Orcutt, who was with the local team for a while in 1910, was telegraphed last night to report today and showed up in time to take the car with the rest of the club for Haverhill this afternoon.

When with the Lowell team before the new infielder looked mighty good to Gray, but lacked experience. Since that time he has been up and down the baseball ladder. Gray sent him down to the Maine-New Brunswick league and one of the Detroit scouts picked him up and sent him to the Tiger camp the next season.

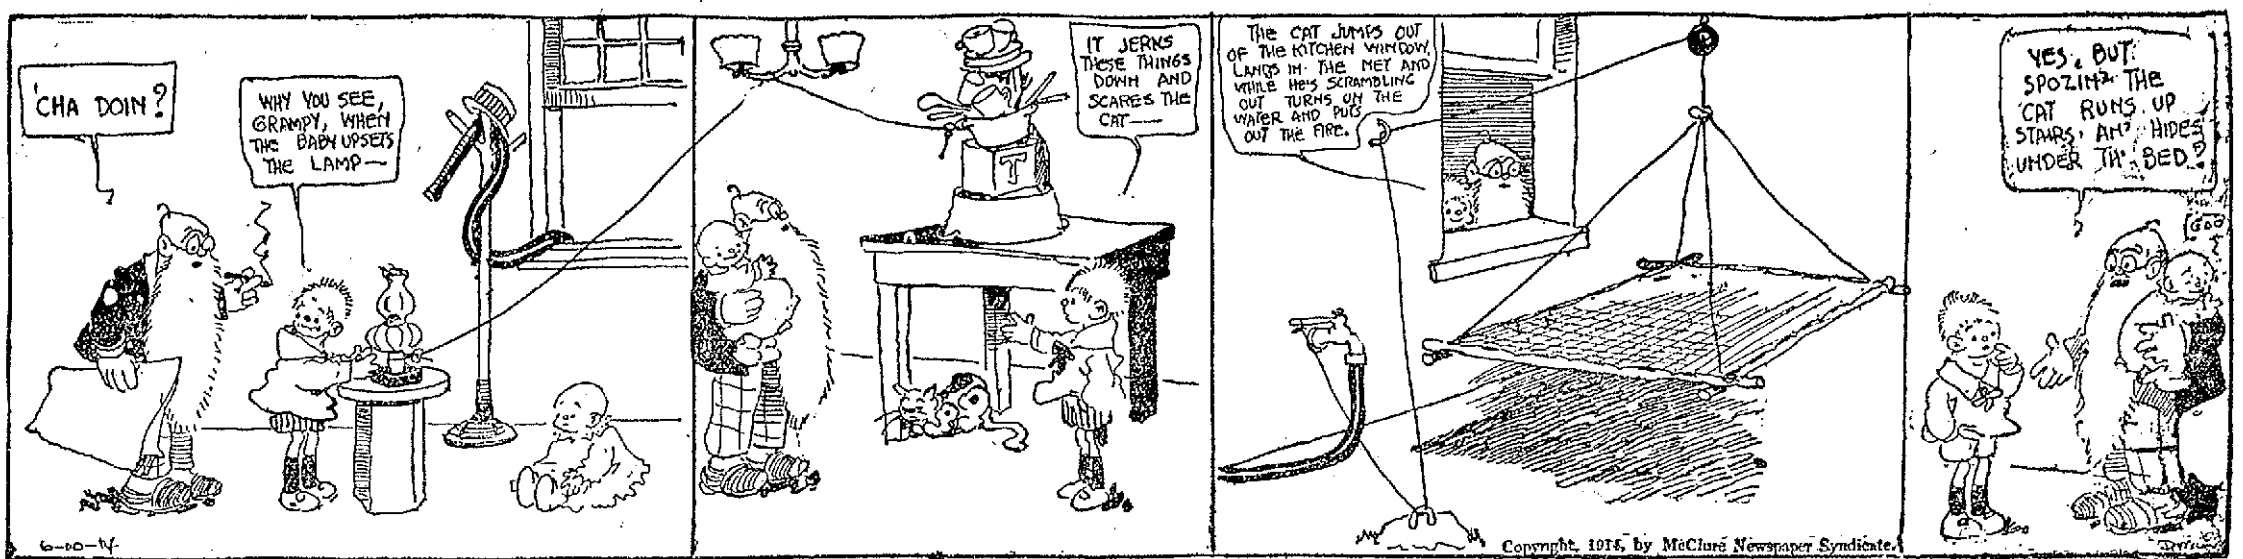

While there he contracted typhoid fever and was laid up with the disease for a long time. In fact not until last fall did he get back into any sort of athletic shape. He will play second base for the Lowell team provided of course that he lives up to expectations.

Sid Nasher, who has filled the position since the release of Smith, has his eye on an infielder's job down in Columbus, Ga., and may leave tomorrow provided they are willing to pay the money he has asked for.

"Bunny" Smith, the false alarm who played second with the local club for a few days, has caught on with Lewiston. Just how long he will last there is problematical.

Constitutionalist President

The details of the composition of the new government are being worked out in the daily conferences. The aim now is to obtain for provisional president a man of moderate views, intelligent, capable and broad enough to give fair consideration to the legitimate interests of the Huertista party. Of the four cabinet portfolios it has been practically agreed that the ministry of foreign relations shall go to a man of the Huertista party but not objectionable personally to the constitutionalists; the ministry of finance to an independent man having the trust and confidence of the constitutionalists but to be suggested by the Huertista party; and the ministry of government (interior administration) shall be of constitutionalist lineage but one likely to be fair in his adjustment of the various provisional governments and state political situations. This would give the constitutionalists practically three out of five men in sympathy with their cause. In trying to find a dignified way for the retirement of Huerta the mediators were impressed with the method suggested by the Mexican delegates of permitting him actually to appoint a minister of foreign affairs as a new provisional president. Also the mediators have in mind the fact that the European powers have recognized Huerta as the constitutional president and they wish to see his dignity retained before these nations. The Mexican delegation, it is understood, will not insist upon this method of selection if the American delegates and it impossible to sanction it. One way of bridging the difficulty which has been suggested is to have the transition effected without any previous agreement with the American government so as to save it embarrassment. Recognition then might be extended when the provisional president had been installed in power and had been formally accepted by the constitutionalists. Such ceremony would constitute a popular demonstration that would justify the American government in the view of many here in extending recognition on the broad ground that the national will in effect had been expressed.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Consideration of the Panama canal tolls exemption repeal bill was continued by the senate today. AN IMPORTANT ARREST

BOSTON POLICE BELIEVE THEY HAVE CAPTURED MAN RESPONSIBLE FOR MANY ROBBERIES

BOSTON, June 10.—Inspectors O'Neill and Dorsey arrested Morris Holman, 31 years old, of Mott street, South End, last night on a charge of breaking into and entering an apartment at 22 Rawson street, Brookline, May 24, and the larceny of jewels valued at $225, the property of Agnes H. Winn. The prisoner was later turned over to Sgt. Rutherford of the Brookline police. The capture of this man by O'Neill and Dorsey is believed by the police to be one of the most important made in a long time. A large number of breaks have been committed in Greater Boston, and the police think some of them will be traced to Holman.

Sgt. Rutherford took Holman to Brookline last evening and had him booked on a charge of breaking and entering.

The home of Mrs. Winn in an apartment block was entered during the afternoon of May 24, entrance being gained by forcing the hall door with a jimmy. At the same time the apartment of William H. Prescott on the top floor was entered in the same manner and jewelry stolen.

For several months the Brookline police have been on the alert for an apartment house burglar. Houses in many fashionable sections of the town have been broken into and in nearly every instance entrance was gained by jimmieing the front door.

Prior to the break at Mrs. Winn's an attempt was made to burglarize an apartment on St. Paul street and on that occasion the intruder suddenly met the maid and fled.

The Brookline police said last evening that they would not know until today what breaks would be charged up to Holman.

MRS. PANKHURST LOST

Succeeded in Evading Police Who Were Watching House—Woman Who Slashed Picture Jailed

LONDON, June 10.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst again succeeded during last night in evading the police who were closely watching the house in Grosvenor square from which she had been recently conducting the militant suffragettes campaign against the peace of the members of the royal family at Buckingham palace and other places. Her plan of escape is said by the police to have been cleverly concealed although the details were not made public. The ingenuity of the women and their ability to circumvent Scotland Yard whenever circumstances demand a real contest of wit are giving cause for keen anxiety at police headquarters.

The raid on the offices of the Women's Social and Political Union yesterday day like the previous one early in May did not produce the prolific results expected by the police who today plainly showed their disappointment. The documents seized revealed very few names of public interest. Chief Inspector James McNeill said the published report of the disclosure during the raid that members of the royal family, including the Prince of Wales had contributed to the funds of the militant suffragettes was absolutely groundless.

Miss Bertha Ryland, who yesterday destroyed with a butcher's cleaver George Ramsey's "Portrait of a King" in the Birmingham art gallery was today committed for trial. During the hearing she created a scene in court, shrieking without cessation and quoting Scripture. She used the text: "I come not to send peace but a sword," as justification for her act and she averred the militants "were working with divine guidance for purity and righteousness."

"No surrender!" was her parting cry as she went to the cells.
